FACES ...

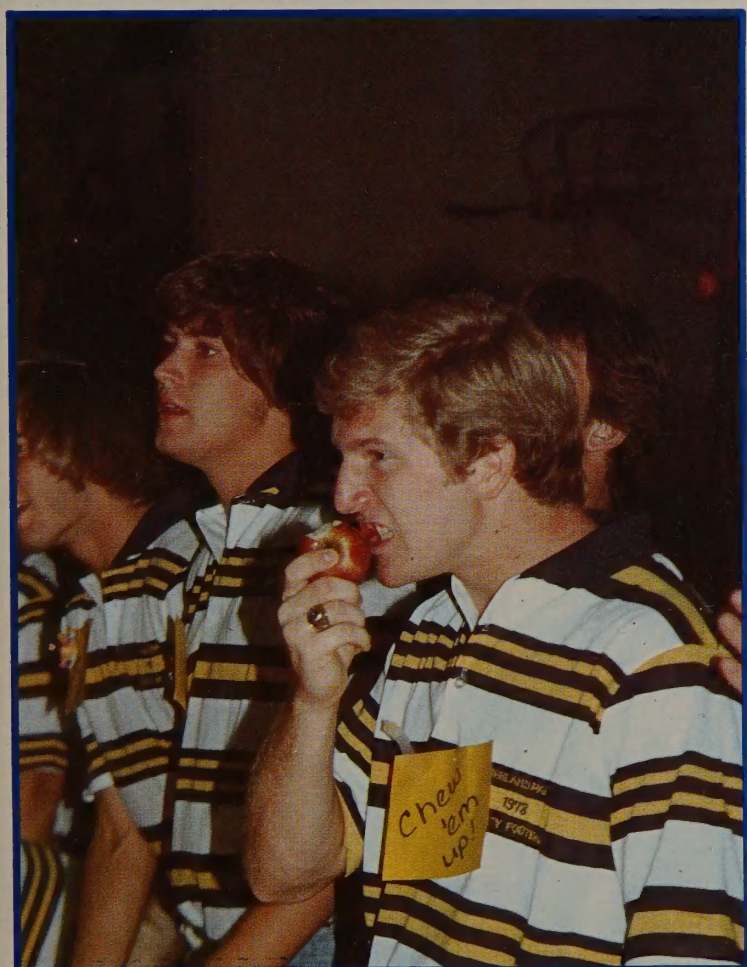

Flying high: An uneasy Jeff Bailey perches precariously on the hands of Eddie Coker.
Slippery when wet: Laurie Brown rounds the bend on the last leg of the water slides.

Wishful thinking: At the Hi-Lite picnic, Lynn Cole suddenly realizes vacation is over.

reveal feelings

The expressions on one's face sometimes reveal, more than words, how a person feels. The different ways a person reacts to various situations reflect many facets of the individual's character. A person's countenance can portray feelings of embarrassment, happiness, sadness, and worry. Student faces showed signs of tension during exams, excitement at sport events, nervousness during elections, and elation at achievements.

Beauty school dropout: Rusty Ross and Ty Snelling help Kathy Wideman clean up after a shaving cream fight.

Head haunter: Eerie faces of jack-o-lanterns glow on Halloween night.

Chew 'em up: Arvin Combs wants to sink his teeth into a Greenville Lion.

Common cheers: Students raise the roof during an unscheduled pep rally.
Sunday drivers: Katherine Schooler, Reagan Fairchild, Jenny Clark, and Sherri Todd decorate an antique car at Six Flags.
Administrative advice: The warning sign above this doorway reminds students of the school policy.
Happy ending: 300 days later, the scoreboard reflects the Scots' triumphant victory over the Plano Wildcats.

WORDS convey thoughts

What better way to convey thoughts than through spoken or written words? Members of the speech team expressed their own thoughts and opinions on poems and short stories in speech presentations given during class and in competition. English students not only expressed their ideas on literature during class discussions, but also through the words of an English paper.

Students armed with bottles of shoe polish and tubes of paint struck shopping center windows, cars, and street signs in an effort to heighten the spirit before football and basketball games. Pep rallies provided a chance for students to expend their energies vocally in support of the Scot teams. The Spirit Committee, Student Council, DECA Members, and cheerleaders sold spirit towels and cups, bumperstickers, keychains and buttons decorated with Scot slogans to boost the community enthusiasm.

Keep on truckin': Spirit "picks-up" momentum for the first district game.

Circular slogans: Spirit buttons get the message across.

Pep boosters: Lynda Munroe, Janna Williams, Stacy Martin, and Lisa Bailey proudly display the spirit stick awarded to the senior class.

ACTIONS ...

Second coat: Mike Lafitte shows the proper painting procedures to Davey Davis.

Plain-O plane: Scot spirit soars before the Plano football game.

demonstrate abilities

"Action, action, we want action," a cheer known to all sports enthusiasts, set the mood not only for athletes, but also for the student body, faculty, and community during the 1978-1979 school year.

On October 14, Park Cities' residents took action by passing the 4.46 million dollar bond proposal for a new stadium and turf and improvements in the school cafeterias.

Faculty members attended workshops and classes during the summer to sharpen their teaching skills and gain ideas for lesson plans. Teachers also sponsored clubs and activities, spending much of their free time working with students.

36-24-36 hut: Scot offense is set to "move on down the field."

Huff and puff: Carol MacGregor uses all her strength and power to blow up balloons at a Spirit Committee workcrew.

SUMMER

drifting
away . . .

Summer '78 held adventure for students both at home and abroad.

Beaches were the most popular vacation sites. Padre Island attracted Leigh Simmons, while Ann Coleman and Pam Nichols spent time in the Hawaiian Islands. Becky Farmer, Cathy Cummings, and Susan Cleaver were among members of the University Park Methodist Church who took the rock musical "Godspell" on a tour of the South, followed by a stint in the Bahamas.

Brad Taylor and Joe Binford toured the United Kingdom as part of the Texas Longhorns soccer team. They competed with local English squads. "I was glad that we did so well," commented Joe, "Those boys had been playing since birth — they know it all." Martha Brabham, Lois Ann Mitchell, and Kathryn Dunton joined chemistry teacher Dr. Lawrence V. Puckett on an A.I.F.S.-sponsored travel/study tour of Europe.

Scots found a variety of jobs to keep them busy last summer. Judy Claman watched over swimmers at the Dallas Country Club. Drew Spies and Chris Alexander honed their theatrical talents at St. Mark's summer acting workshop. Bonnie Peters helped to cool the summer heat by dishing up flavors at an ice cream parlor.

As part of the Amigos de las Americas program, Kate Hanneman spent six weeks promoting dental health in rural Honduras. She demonstrated proper hygienic methods at schools and other gathering places. "The dirt and the poverty were amazing. It was the experience of a lifetime," she related.

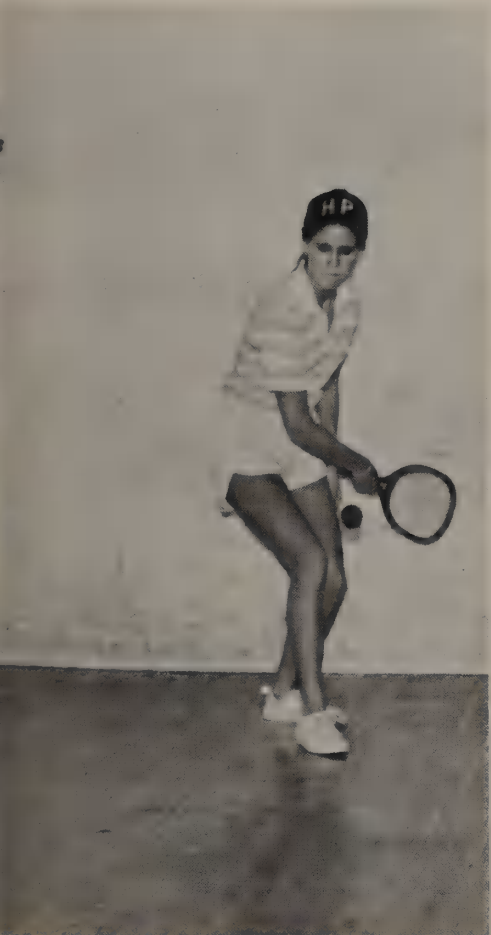

The summer ended with freshman orientation and the Hi-Lites picnic to welcome freshman girls.

Grease: Summer mechanic Lex Martin checks the oil of a sporty Corvette.

Raquetball, anyone?: Kim Roessler serves the ball to opponent Allison McKenzie.

Working women: Marsa and Lynda Munroe prepare various sandwiches and salads for waiting customers at a nearby restaurant.

What's so funny?: Lisa Bailey and Susan Reed think it is a joke when Ken Luce asks them if they want to kiss a senior guy.

Runnin' with the pack: Scot footballers begin their long race for the district 13-AAAA title.

Highlander hot-shots: Co-editors Ginger Bell and Carol MacGregor review past Highlanders in search of ideas for the next edition.

Ready or not: Freshman Linda Lightbourn loads up on school supplies at a local store for her first day at high school.

Moped mania: Kate Cruikshank and Margaret Coleman motor through the Park Cities.

Semi-finalists earn excellent academic rank

Thirteen semi-finalists and sixteen commendees represented Highland Park in this year's National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The semi-finalists scored in the top one percent of the nation's seniors on the PSAT/NMSQT, while the commendees scored in the top two percent nationally.

The semi-finalists were eligible to qualify for finalist standing if their SAT score was comparable to the PSAT score previously received. In addition to being named semi-finalists, these students qualified to compete for scholarships offered by universities.

Decisions, decisions: College hunting has Susan Fuller and Barbara Howell confused.

"Memories": Harvey Mitchell and Burns Cooper find vocabulary words from the first grade difficult.

Math mania: Conscientious semi-finalists Mark Hancock, Jon White, and Dale Walter work on math problems as Becky Chalk and Jamie Stockard provide them with the correct answers.

Career "wise": Frank Webster and Jay Marshall look for the perfect profession.

Scottie team takes revenge on Plano Cats

"Get a kitty" and "pulverize Plano" were the catch words for September. With hopes of revenge for last year's game against Plano, spirit rose to an all-time high. To get the ball rolling, Scot supporters gave a picnic on September 6 for the football players. The Spirit Committee and cheerleaders sold bumper stickers and blue and gold spirit towels. Students and parents enthusiastically waved the towels during football games.

Howdy week was declared September 11-15. The week climaxed Friday night with the annual dance in the girls' gym. This year's theme was "I'd like to get to know you."

Lads and Lassies choir dressed to the theme of the "Roaring Twenties" at their picnic on September 23. The celebration was held at White Rock Lake.

For students planning their college future, College Night was the perfect opportunity to get a first-hand look at various universities in Texas and around the country. Even though students looked ahead to college, parents concentrated on the present. Back-to-School night gave parents a chance to meet the teachers and hear about the upcoming school activities.

Spirited spenders: Underclassman Ann Stansbury buys a towel from Jenny Razzeto.

Eye spy: Danny Presley eats up all the attention he gets as a Varsity football player.

Scottie stampede: The Varsity cheerleaders and football team charge onto the field at the all-important Plano game.

Now, class! Parents listen attentively to Mrs. Barrett during Back-to-School night.

Letter perfect: Allison McKenzie and Jana Lord paint a "seniorized" spirit sign.

Tra la la: Senior members of Lads and Lassies entertain other choir members at their annual picnic.

Spotlight on S.M.U.: College representative speaks to prospective students.

Dunkem' donuts: Greg Norton and Glenn Watson get ready to "dunk Denison" at an early-morning surprise football breakfast.

One lump or two?: Sophomore Vicky Hart and her mother socialize with Margaret Williams at the annual Mother-Daughter tea.

Full of hot air: Mary Bullington puffs away as she helps decorate for the Homecoming dance.

"Give me an 'S'": Varsity cheerleaders boost school spirit during a pep rally

Social events, bond election mark October

The passing of the October 14 bond election marked the final phase of school remodeling. The bond initiated plans for the renovation of the stadium and improvements of the school cafeterias.

While students became familiar with their academic routine, they looked forward to the beginning of social activities. School club meetings were postponed to allow new students to adjust to their schedules.

Hi-Lite officers sponsored the annual Mother-Daughter Tea on October 29 at Janie Donosky's home.

"Come Sail Away" was the theme of the Homecoming dance sponsored by the Student Council. The social committee provided "King Cobra," a popular band from Austin, and original decorations such as sails draped above the queen's throne. Kay Douglass was elected Homecoming Queen.

Thirteen seniors, who scored in the top one-half nation-wide on last October's PSAT/NMSQT, were named National Merit Semi-Finalists in early October.

Eighteen new members were initiated into the National Honor Society in a traditional candle-lighting ceremony October 3, in the library.

Initial rehearsals for the Senior Play, Don't Drink the Water, by Woody Allen, were held at the month's end.

Um, um, good: Sophomore girls sell homemade goodies for a fund raising project.

Secret ballot?: Coach Randy Emery confidently casts his vote in the October 14 bond election.

Love thy brother. Clover Thomasson speaks to juniors and seniors in a National Brotherhood Week assembly October 24.

Beauty, Beast big attractions at fall dance

Homecoming 1978 started in style with the Scots defeating Richardson 58-24.

During halftime the fathers presented the Homecoming Queen nominees to the crowd. After the victory, the couples went to the girls' gym for the Homecoming dance, where "King Cobra" entertained the crowd with 60's music by the Beachboys and the Beatles. The Student Council decorated the newly-painted gym with sails and sea-colors to match the Homecoming theme of "Come Sail Away."

Midway in the dance the Student Council announced the winner of the "Beauty and the Beast" contest. The contest was a fund-raising project initiated this year by the Student Council. Votes were five cents a piece for one of the six football captains. Lott McIlhenny, Lance McIlhenny, John Allums, Pryor Blackwell, Arvin Combs, and Harold McCoy. This year the McIlhenny brothers shared the title of Beast.

The Homecoming Queen nominees walked down the red carpet on the arm of their escorts. Each nominee chose a special song for their theme. Mary Bell and her escort Cedric Burger walked to the tune "Whenever I See Your Smiling Face" by James Taylor. Pryor Blackwell accompanied Kay Douglass to the theme of "Baby I Love Your Way" by Peter Frampton. Brenda Francis, escorted by Dean Miller, chose "Shower The People" as her theme. Paige Nash, escorted by Mike Lafitte, used "If" by Bread. Julie Smith and Lott McIlhenny walked to the accompaniment of "All is Fair in Love" by Stevie Wonder. Son Fulgham escorted Carolyn Wagner to Dan Fogelberg's song "To the Morning." Student Council Vice-President Mike Drinkwater announced Kay Douglass as the winner, and Arvin Combs, Student Council President, gave Kay the traditional kiss and crowned her the 1978 Homecoming Queen.

NDCC drills closing contest held in stadium

November was an exciting month for Scots. In the gubernatorial elections held November 14, former Highland Park student William Clements was voted in as the state's first Republican governor in over 100 years.

Closer to home, the junior class elected its 1978-79 leaders. The new officers were Ty Snelling, president; Stewart Thomas, vice-president; Alison Stone, treasurer; and Ellen Eisenlohr, secretary.

Highlander Stadium saw its last game when the varsity Scots hosted J. J. Pearce November 10. Its 75-year history ended with a reception for 59 ex-HP all state football players. The '78 team closed its season with a 23-13 win over Sherman, finishing second in district 13-AAAA.

The cross-country track teams extended their season by advancing to regional competition. Varsity basketball began their season with a 90-52 win over Newman-Smith of Carrollton.

The senior class presented the play Don't Drink the Water November 9, 10, and 11. Leading roles were played by Drew Spies, Ken Luce, Susan Cleaver, and Carol MacGregor.

Two events provided a welcome relief from homework and routine. On November 4, Hi-Lites hosted its annual fall dance "Grease." Students dressed in fifties outfits watched as Manuel de la Garza was crowned Hi-Lite King. Other nominees were Ken Luce, Jeff Bailey, Pryor Blackwell, Randy Johnson, and Brett Poston.

Following trimester exams November 20 and 21, students enjoyed a 3-day holiday for Thanksgiving.

Kingly court: Hi-Lite King nominees marvel at Jeff Bailey's quick wit.

"Wake up!": Hi-Lites guest speaker, Dr. Basilla Neilen of the Freedoms Foundation urges students to get involved.

Number one: The Highland Park Regimental Guard proudly accepts its awards as winner of the November 17 Invitational Meet.

Remember, when . . . ? Varsity Scots Steve Rogers, Lance McIlhenny, and John Allums recall season highlights with Camie Rodgers and Lauris Brown at a victory dinner.

Plowboy playboys: "Greenville hicks" Jamie Holloway and Mike Bagg pay a pre-game visit to the Highland Park pep rally.

Down boy: A Dallas police officer demonstrates the city's dope dog at a Tuesday assembly.

A.M. address: Dallas mayor Robert Folsom speaks to school leaders at the Key Club breakfast.

Super coach: Superintendent Winston Power presents Red Ellis with gifts commemorating his years of service in Highland Park athletics.

don't drink the water

The scene for this year's Senior play, Don't Drink the Water by Woody Allen, was behind the Iron Curtain. Due to incriminating circumstances, Walter Hollander and his family were accused of spying and driven into the American Embassy by the Communists. Bumbling Axel MaGee (Drew Spies) was left in charge of the Embassy with the help of the efficient Kilroy, played by Jamie Holloway. Under the close scrutiny of Krojack (John Miller) the Hollander family including Walter (Ken Luce), his wife Marion (Susan Cleaver) and their daughter Susan played by Carol MacGregor, made plans for a daring escape.

Supporting performances were also given by Connie Dolph, who played the harassed secretary Miss Burns; Mike Bagg, the "tricky priest"; and Suzanne Farrar, as the temperamental chef.

The cast and crews had to put in extra effort due to a one week delay in the arrival of the scripts. Mrs. Linda Raya directed the play with the help of the stage managers, Gail Defferari, Judy Jericho, and Trey Maxwell, who cued and gave directions. Crew heads, Greg Frye, Melissa Mahaffey, Chris Alexander, Jana Lord, Mary Ann Pittman, Kim Roessler, Lauris Brown, Linda Haseltine, Lisa Bailey, Mary Bullington, Stacy Martin and Lynn Medart were in charge of set decoration, props, publicity, sound, lights and costumes.

The play was presented November 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th. Mrs. Raya commented, "The attendance on Friday and Saturday was the largest I have ever seen." Cast parties were given each night after the play. The final cast party was a breakfast held at the Fairmont Hotel.

"Ohh, Axel!": Susan (Carol MacGregor) comforts a dejected Axel Magee (Drew Spies).

Gunpoint diplomacy: "Mr. Efficiency," Kilroy (Jamie Holloway) attempts to reconcile differences between Axel (Drew Spies) and Krojack (John Miller), and a bodyguard (Mike McGee).

"Well, I never!": Soldiers Jeff Bailey and Day Shelmire threaten secretary Connie Dolph at gunpoint.

Misfit magician: Susan Cleaver helps "straighten" out Mike Bagg's situation while Ken Luce ponders his own tangled predicament.

Liana, Pekka find friendship at High Park

Pekka Saavalainen and Liana Souloum had a chance to experience the American way of life at Highland Park through the American Field Service Program. They arrived in New York on August 21, where they spent three days with 500 other AFS students.

During her year at Highland Park, Liana lived with the family of Ellen Eisenlohr, which she says was not too different from her real family in Rhodes, Greece. Liana's school, on the other hand, was quite different. She enjoyed having electives, as all her classes in Greece were required courses. Liana especially enjoyed drama and was a member of AFS and Hi-Lites.

Among her other interests here were Mexican food, photography, bicycling and being with her friends. "But," Liana stated, "I like most to sleep and eat sweets."

Pekka's schooling in Vantaa, Finland included nine years at an elementary school and three years at high school. It was different from the system at Highland Park in that the teachers came to each of the students' classes. Pekka was the oldest of five children. During his stay in Dallas, Pekka lived with the family of Kris Beck.

Pekka played the flute in the school band and was also a member of the German club and AFS. Outside school, his interests included ice hockey, soccer, basketball, track and field, and football.

A senior at Highland Park, Chris Losey traveled to South Africa this past summer as a foreign exchange student through the AFS program. AFS raised money throughout the year by the sale of friendship bonds, the February carnation sale, and proceeds from the AFS Talent Show.

Pekka power: Finnish AFS student puckers up to aid the band in making a perfect sound.

Yum, yum: Liana Souloum snitches a bite as she helps Mrs. Eisenlohr make a salad.

"Joy to the World": The Lads and Lassies carol through the halls bringing Christmas cheer.

"Oh Christmas Tree": Holiday festivities begin as Sophie and Diane Fullingim decorate their tree.

Go fish: Leslie Andrus and Barbara Howell try to keep warm during the ice storm.

So long, farewell: Scots say good-bye to their traditional home stadium.

Congratulations: Blanten Filak gives Basketball Queen Jane Johansen the traditional roses and kiss. "I'm only half-finished!": Uncompleted toys Stacy Martin, Kaki Roach and Lauris Brown perform Christmas plays at Old-City Park.

Disastrous ice storm strikes, Scots lose heat, electricity

Getting into the Christmas spirit early in the season, Mrs. Linda Raya's advanced drama classes presented original self-written Christmas plays in the old school house at Old City Park. The actors also performed at several nursery schools and day care centers in the Dallas area.

At a basketball pep rally early in December, Jane Johansen was named Basketball Queen by Captain Davey Davis and given the traditional roses and kiss by Blanten Filak.

The Scot roundballers hosted the fifteenth annual Scot Classic and claimed the first place trophy with their championship win over Bryan Adams.

The next week the Scots traveled to Austin to play in the Austin Basketball Tournament. The team, supported by many Hi Park fans who had also taken the trip, won the consolation prize.

The Student Council sponsored a drive to give toys to needy families for Christmas. A prize was awarded to the advisory who donated the most toys.

Anticipation grew as the holidays neared and clubs and publication staffs began to celebrate early with Christmas parties. The Bagpipe staff celebrated at Yvette Myers' home, while Ginger Bell hosted The Highlander staff. Both staffs enjoyed dinner and exchanged gag gifts.

The Lads and Lassies Choir decked the halls with Christmas cheer by caroling through the halls during sixth period on the last day of school before the holidays.

Many students took advantage of the excellent ski conditions reported throughout Colorado and spent a white Christmas in the Rockies.

Unfortunately the Scots' holidays ended with a disastrous ice storm which froze all New Year's Eve activities. The ice storm, which was the worst that Dallas had experienced since 1929, left many Scots without heat or electricity for as long as a week and destroyed hundreds of the old trees that charmed the Park Cities.

Guess what I have?: Ginny Hudson wonders what Lex Martin is hiding at the Highlander Christmas party.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT

With heavy homework loads, athletics, part-time jobs, and extra-curricular activities making demands on the average student's after-school hours, Scots made sure that the little free time they had was enjoyed to the fullest.

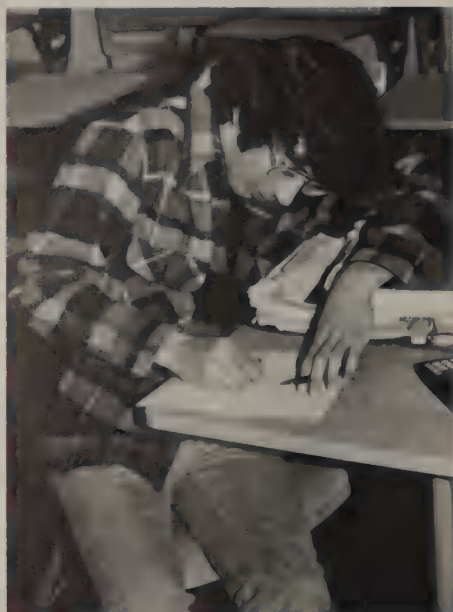

One of the most popular — as well as one of the cheapest — forms of entertainment was "spectating" at one of HP's sporting events. Whether it was a Friday evening football game, a Saturday morning track meet or a Tuesday afternoon soccer game, Scots enjoyed loosening up and yelling for their team.

Many upperclassmen as well as some socially aware freshmen and sophomores found dancing an exciting way to spend those Friday and Saturday nights. Some Scots dressed up and ventured to one of the many discos popping up in Dallas. Everyone enjoyed the highlights of the dance season, the Junior Symphony Ball and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Music in its many forms played an essential role in Scots' leisure time. Students flocked to concert halls to enjoy the sounds of their favorite performers. Some of the headliners in the Dallas area were Billy Joel, "Boston:", and "Styx". Scots also packed into a local roller rink when HP's own "Nothing Strikes Back" played in November. Even listening to albums with friends provided just enough diversion to take academically boggled minds off the thought of school.

Whether it was dressing up for a big night on the town or a spur-of-the-moment volleyball game on a beautiful Sunday afternoon, Scots made sure their spare moments were well spent. Free time was precious time . . . time to be remembered.

Trig troubles: Tommy Wiener spends many of his leisure hours studying.

High ball: Junior guys spend a fun-filled afternoon playing volleyball.

Eating out: Ann Snider, Ann Aston, Ellen Wiggins, Lisa Corey, and Martha Taylor enjoy a picnic lunch.

Smile: Mrs. W. R. Beattie snaps a shot of Barbe Beattie and Evan Wyly before a dance.

Music man: Matt Aldredge strums along to the beat of his elaborate stereo system.

Going places: Sophomore Jennifer Hunt rides her bike for fun and transportation.

Icy streets, power failures open January

A warm and relaxed Christmas holiday met a stormy end when ice covered most of North Texas. Many HP families dealt with the resulting power failures by moving to local hotels. School went on as scheduled while officials struggled to repair power and water lines at area homes.

The cast of this year's musical, West Side Story, began rehearsals January 3. They worked several hours a day until the performances April 4-7.

The Highland Park varsity soccer team opened its season with a win over J. J. Pearce. Scot Basketballers continued their winning ways with victories over Richardson, Berkner, and Sherman.

At the annual Scot football banquet held January 24, Cedric Burgher was dubbed "Forgotten Lineman," John Allums was honored as "Fight'nest Scot," and Robert Holmes received the title of "Most Conscientious Scot." Attendees enjoyed a film which featured Kay Douglass interviewing several members of the '79 football squad.

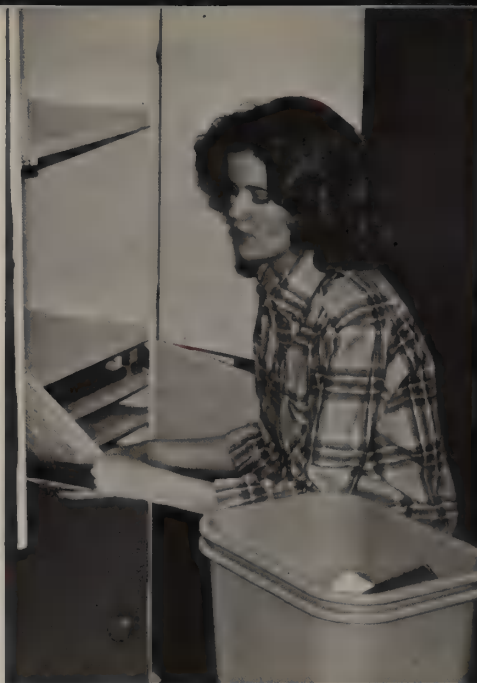

On January 13, several HP singers auditioned for places in the Texas All-State Choir. Becky Chalk, Cathy Cummings, and Missy Thomas were named to the prestigious group.

In early January the speech team traveled to Sam Houston for their first tournament of 1979. They made an excellent showing, placing in several events.

The Student Council Supershow was presented January 12. Emcees Mike Drinkwater and Camie Rodgers entertained between performances by the group Woodwork, Kathy Baldwin, and the "Blues Brothers," played by Jeff Bailey and Arvin Combs. Lex Martin stole the show with his impression of Mister Rogers.

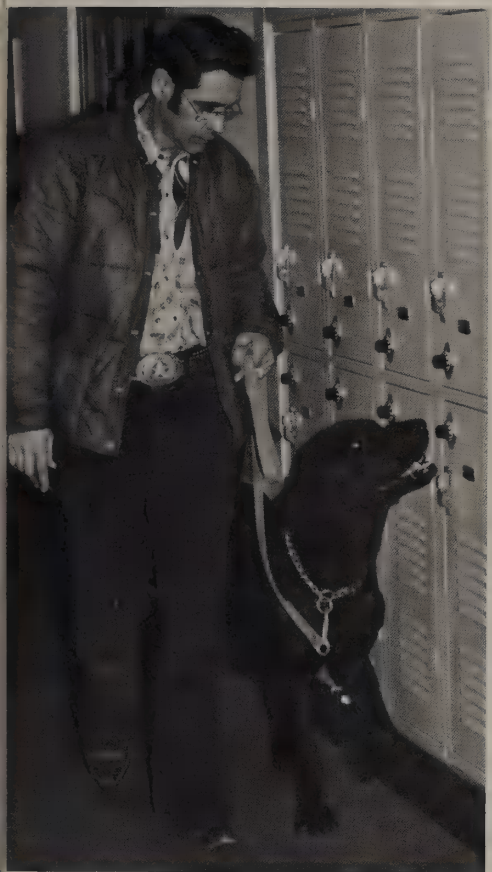

Captains' capers: Lott McIlhenny entertains his teammates with memories of seasons past at the '79 football banquet.

C & W celebrities: Dolly Parton (Jeff Bailey) and Porter Waggoner (Arvin Combs) sing the praises of Sneeze detergent.

Moving Day: Student Council rep Pris Shytles helps relocate the SCO.

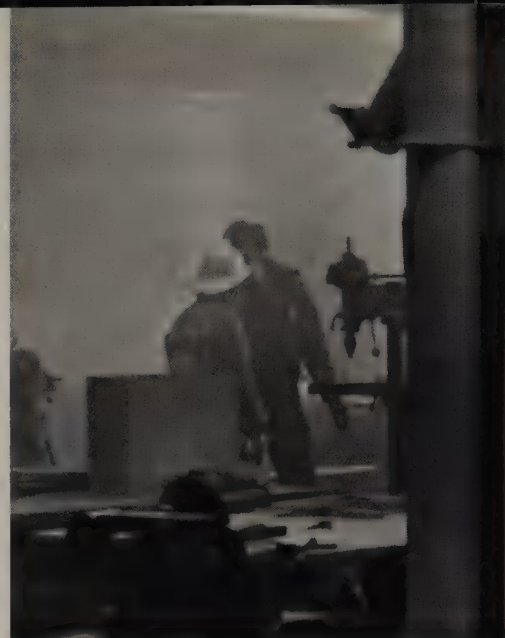

Canine cop: Dallas' dope dog patrols H.P. halls in search of hidden drugs.
Scholars' supper: NHS members Judy Claman, Kathryn Dockery, and Chris Losey enjoy a pizza at the annual dinner.

Brute strength: Chuck Coronado performs on the pommel horse during a gymnastic meet against North Garland.

Lumber jocks: Woodsmen Sam Chantilis and David Simpson profit from the freeze as their tree business booms.

Burn, baby, burn! Park Cities firemen quench the woodshop fire, preventing serious damage.

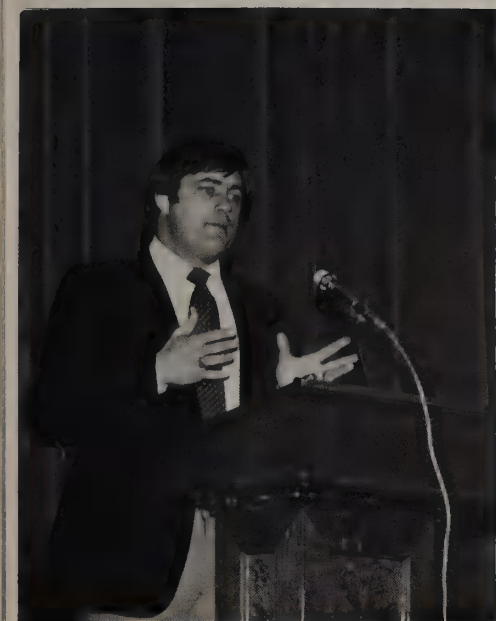

New friends: Karen Squibb waits for a cookie at the Hi-Lite tea welcoming transfer students.

Bigheaded: With graduation nearing, Jay Marshall gets measured for his cap and gown.

Thirst quenchers: Stacy Martin and Mike Bagg serve the faculty at the Teacher Appreciation Tea.

Cyra-nose de Bergerac: Drama student Jeff Coker practices make-up techniques for his exam.

Carnations, style show brighten month

Temperatures ranged from the teens to the seventies in February. On February 9 students shivered outside as Park Cities firemen put out a blaze in the woodshop. Sawdust in the shop caught fire and the flames threatened to spread to the air ducts before being brought under control.

AFS members helped to brighten St. Valentine's Day by selling carnations to HP students. The 12,000 cards earned $2,000 to help support next year's exchange students.

Scot basketball closed its season with a 57-56 loss to Lake Highlands in the district tournament. They finished competition with a 23-8 record.

The Student Council and Social Committee hosted teachers at the annual Teacher Appreciation Tea February 14. Faculty members enjoyed refreshments while being entertained with skits and songs.

The week of February 18-24 was designated as Brotherhood Week. Guy Owens of Northwest Bible Church and Mick Kohlenstein of Highland Park Presbyterian Church spoke to students on the importance of friendship and love for others.

Students ended the month with trimester exams on February 28 and March 1.

Stylish stroll: Charlotte Turner models spring creations in a February fashion show.

Happiness is . . . : Guy Owens speaks to juniors and seniors on the importance of friendship at the Brotherhood Assembly.

Flower power: Thoughts of Valentine carnations get Bonnie O'Rourke up early to sort flowers in the cafeteria.

Cheerleaders raise money, boost spirit

"Fired up and ready" was the motto for the freshman, B-team, and Varsity cheerleaders after attending summer cheerleading camp at SMU. Besides learning new cheers, the B-team and Varsity cheerleaders each won the "Spirit Stick" twice.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Elysia Holt, Varsity cheerleaders Dawn Lallier, Jeff Bailey, Kay Douglass, Ken Luce, Jane Apple, Eddie Coker, Carolyn Wagner, and Brett Poston sold key chains and bumper stickers to raise money for various athletic activities. B-team cheerleaders Betty Bunten, Diane Hoover, Shirley Miller, Lane Newsom, Missy McGee, and Ronda Ross sponsored by Mrs. Lorna Griffin, helped the Spirit Committee and Student Council sell blue and gold spirit towels.

The freshman cheerleaders, Kristi Spikes, Gilly Harris, Caren Cain, Susan Reed, Electra Thomas, Jenny Wetsel, Carrie Sowden, and Michelle Aldredge, with the help of Ms. Juanita Morrow, organized girls to decorate the locker room, lockers, and players' houses.

Painting "Scottie" slogans on the windows of Snider Plaza, decorating an airplane to fly over Highlander Stadium, and organizing a pep rally called a "Spirit Booster" during an afternoon football practice were just a few of the new projects organized by the cheerleaders. Head cheerleader Dawn Lallier commented, "This year we hope to top the spirit from 1977 and keep it going throughout the school year."

Flippin' out: Eddie Coker is sent spinning through the air with the aid of Brett Poston.

Pyramid power: Cheerleaders conquer the mountain of district 13-4A.

B-team cheerleaders: Lane Newsom, Shirley Miller, Missy McGee, Diane Hoover, Betty Buntten, and Ronda Ross.

Mary Anne Bell

Brett Poston

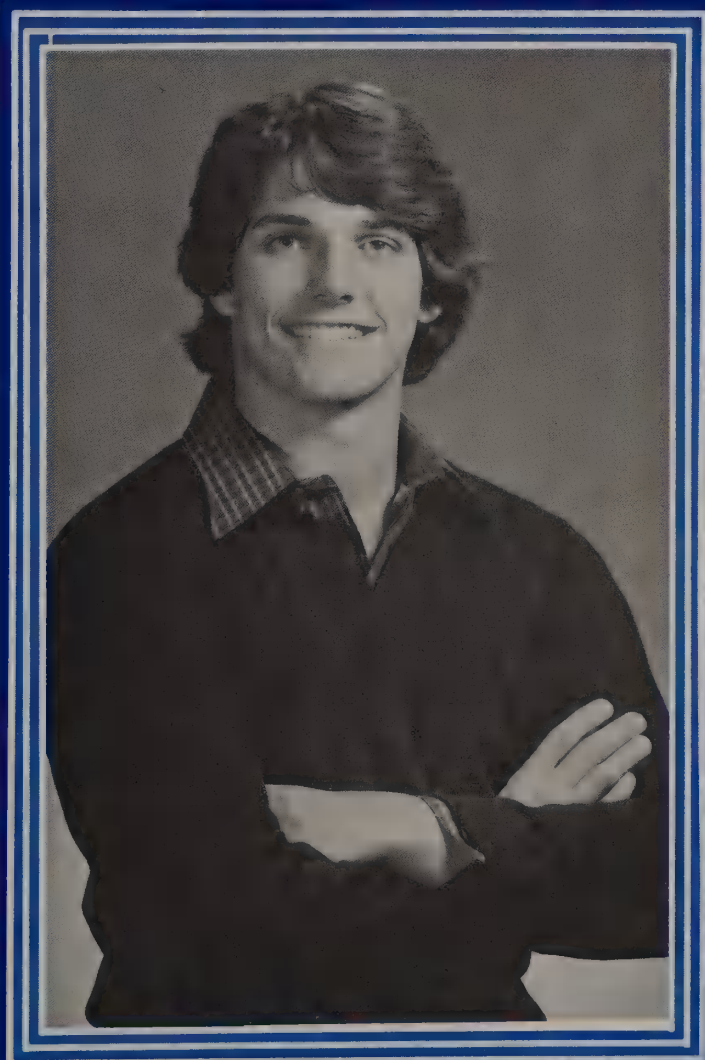

Paige Nash

Captain of the girls' Varsity soccer team her junior year, Paige Nash was also active in intramurals. She boosted team spirit as a freshman cheerleader and was nominated for Homecoming Queen. Manuel de la Garza transferred to Dallas from Monterrey, Mexico, to spend his senior year at Highland Park. He was named to the Dallas Morning News All-District Second Team Defense for his contribution to the Varsity football team. Manuel was also elected Hi-Lite King.

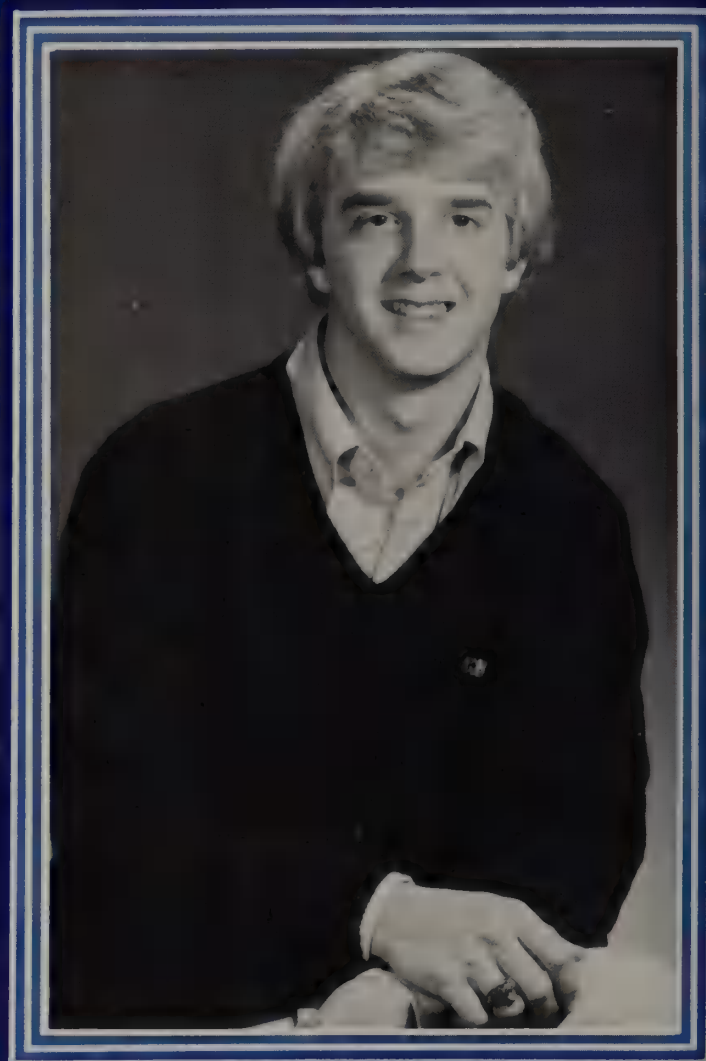

The student body selected eight seniors as favorites in a December school-wide election. These students were chosen on the basis of personality and achievement. Homecoming Queen nominee Mary Ann Bell was elected Historian of Hi-Lites and was a B-team cheerleader. Mary Ann was active in intramurals and named "Friendliest Freshman." Brett Poston served as treasurer for the Leo Club and was initiated into the National Honor Society his senior year. He was nominated for Hi-Lite King and was a Varsity cheerleader.

Manuel de la Garza

Homecoming Queen nominee Jane Apple supported Scot teams as a Varsity and Freshman cheerleader. Jane was also active in intramurals and Hi-Lites. Jeff Bailey, Key Club president, was a Varsity cheerleader. He played the role of an enemy soldier in the Senior Play Don't Drink the Water. Jeff was also a Hi-Lite King nominee.

Jane Apple

Jeff Bailey

Carolyn Wagner, a Homecoming Queen nominee, supported athletic teams as a B-team and Varsity cheerleader. Carolyn was an officer for girls' F.C.A. and became a member of the National Honor Society her junior year. She also served on the Student Council for three years. Besides raising Scot spirit as a Varsity cheerleader, Ken Luce played the lead in the Senior Play Don't Drink the Water. Ken was Student Council Junior Class Representative, Bagpipe sports editor, a member of Key Club, and a nominee for Hi-Lite King.

ACADEMICS

All keyed up: Students practice typing manuscripts and letters during class.

Fishing, travel offers leisure for principal

Highland Park Principal Dr. E. A. Sigler spent part of his summer as Chairman of the Curriculum and Career Development Committee in the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals. The Committee, which included 20 other Texas secondary school principals, dealt with changes and developments in high school curriculum. Dr. Sigler also held a seminar for prospective administrators in Austin this summer on the role of the principal in today's schools.

Closer to home, Dr. Sigler began a program to change the way some students treated the school facilities. His program included formation of the Students Against Trash Committee, which campaigned for proper trash disposal.

In his spare time, Dr. Sigler enjoyed fishing on the Gulf Coast and at Port Aransas, as well as attending athletic contests with his family.

Administrators initiate grades in advisories

Assistant Principals Mr. Ernie Ritter and Mr. Ron Geyer welcomed 366 freshman students to Highland Park and two new babies into their households. On October 18, Mr. Ritter announced the arrival of his son Brandon Kyle. Mr. Geyer became the father of Ashley Marie on November 19.

The proud fathers were also concerned with the welfare of Highland Park students. An increase of disciplinary problems during advisory prompted administrators to consider alternative solutions to advisory. Results of a survey conducted by the Student Council in the spring of 1978 showed that students preferred to keep advisory as it was.

During the summer, Mr. Geyer competed in a men's slow-pitch softball league which traveled to Houston to play the league winners of three other states. He also enjoyed shooting pool and reading the latest best sellers and educational books.

Mr. Geyer, assistant principal to 10th and 12th graders, was chairman of the committee to update and rewrite the School Services Curriculum Guide, an instructional handbook for the counselors, nurses, librarians, and special education teachers in the school district.

Mr. Ritter, responsible for grades 9 and 11, attended North Texas State University last summer. He completed twelve hours toward his doctorate in administrative leadership. Mr. Ritter also worked with the Junior Class Officers in raising money to fund the Junior-Senior Prom held in April.

Board plans new stadium, better kitchens

On October 14, 1978, the Park Cities' residents passed the 4.46 million dollar bond proposal for a new Highlander Stadium and kitchen improvements in all six schools. The bond proposal allocated $3.7 million for the new stadium and $760,000 for kitchen renovations.

The School Board, consisting of Mr. Walter M. Spradley, president; Dr. Elgin W. Ware, vice-president; Dr. John E. Eisenlohr, secretary; Mr. Trevor Rees-Jones, financial officer; and Mr. Arthur Z. Barnes, Mr. Darrell M. Lafitte, and Mrs. Duffield Smith, Jr., investigated the cost of upkeep for a renovated stadium and compared it to estimated upkeep costs of a new stadium. Members found that what appeared to be an expensive solution for the stadium would be most economical over a period of years.

The proposed stadium would provide maintenance and warehouse areas which are not presently located in Highlander Stadium, new dressing rooms and indoor training facilities for physical education classes and athletics, and 115 additional parking places located between the boys gym and Highlander Stadium. Installation of artificial turf would provide additional practice area for NDCC, band, and outdoor athletics. Construction on the new stadium began in early 1979 with the tentative completion date of May 1980.

Renovations on the school cafeterias were scheduled to start in June and end in August 1979.

Beginning in 1979, the financing of the approved bond issue required a three-cent increase in the tax rate of $1.15 per $100 of valuation.

Standardized test scores released in September showed students scored higher in every category than testing specialists predicted based on mean IQ levels of the students. Average scores of ninth graders were beyond the 13.6 grade equivalent.

Cementing plans: Mr. Arthur Z. Barnes points out the visitors' section of the stadium to Dr. John E. Eisenlohr and Mr. Darrell M. Lafitte.

"Speaking of schedules . . .": Mr. Everett Hart, Mr. Walter M. Spradley, and Mr. Dennis Davis check the agenda at a Board meeting.

Eyeing the estimates: Mrs. Duffield Smith, Jr., Dr. Winston Power, and Mr. Trevor Rees-Jones discuss the budget for the new Highlander Stadium.

The Thinker: Dr. Elgin Ware listens attentively to a new proposal at a Board meeting.

All in the greenhouse: Mr. John Covin and his wife Donna introduce their daughter Sarah Kathryn to the art of growing plants.

What's cooking?: Mrs. Pamela Bush prepares vegetables at her home to practice the ancient custom of cooking with a Chinese wok.

Faculty enjoys scenic sights, leisure hours

Teachers returning from summer vacation prepared new lessons from ideas gained at seminars, coaching clinics, and workshops.

Various faculty members spent the summer sharing their knowledge with others. Mrs. Debra Heflich taught an English composition course, Miss Lynne Logue led a science enrichment program, and Mrs. Kay Kyle instructed a math class. Mrs. Doris Simpson lectured at Baptist University, Mr. Charles Tucker at Lamar University, and Mrs. Phyllis Glover at Richland College.

Three coaches participated in coaching clinics. Miss Debbie Holder attended a volleyball clinic in Abilene and commented, "I thought it was very beneficial, especially because the All-states tournament was there." Mr. Cecil Holmes and Randy Smith traveled to Houston for a coaching school.

Art and music courses kept teachers busy this summer. Mr. Jim Carter attended classes in jewelry and metal design, ceramics, applied design, and techniques in arts and crafts at Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He commented, "It was the first time I worked with gold. I learned to be very careful because it is so expensive." Miss Paula Duckworth participated in a water color course at Southern Methodist University and Mrs. Elysia Holt studied the history and art of Mexico at the University of Dallas. Mr. Don Waugh undertook a New Music Reading clinic at East Texas State University.

Mrs. Reyburn Myers and Miss Cathy Orr enjoyed participating in a seminar "Writing as a Process." Mrs. Pamela Bush attended Shakespeare in the Park and Miss Claire King took a classical Greek course.

Mrs. Gloria Hamilton graded advanced-placement math exams in Princeton, New Jersey, and Mr. Dave McElwee attended a Naval Intelligence School at the Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare School in California.

Spirited teachers cheer at pep rally, build enthusiasm

Fishing and hunting were outdoor interests enjoyed by Mr. Tom Shelton, Mr. Randy Smith, and Mr. Jim Mouser. Mr. Randy Emery played golf, Mr. Ron Geyer played slowpitch softball and Mr. Bruce Orr hiked and camped.

Several teachers used their non-working hours for artistic and creative endeavors. Sewing and needlepoint were favorite pastimes for Mrs. Chris Bardo, Miss Diane Cook, Mrs. Dolores Snodgrass, and Mrs. Julia Sutcliffe. After teaching art all day, Mr. James Carter even painted in his leisure time. Mrs. Sheila Douthit frequented the antique shops in search of items for her collection. Mr. Charles Tucker spent his time adding to his personal library, and Mrs. Phyllis Giles collected sculpture. Miss Eileen Steensen took advantage of special events at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Steady tempo: Clapping out the beat, Mr. Robert Jordan leads the award winning band at the conclusion of a football pep rally.

Fired-up faculty: During the Pearce pep rally, Mr. Jerry Smith, Mrs. Dorris Warburton, and Dr. Lawrence Puckett show their spirit in a cheer.

FACULTY

High school faculty members journeyed to foreign countries and various sites in the States to relax after the bustling year.

Europe and Mexico were highlights for several teachers. Mrs. Elysia Holt and Mrs. Lorna Griffin chaperoned a group of students to Mexico, and Mrs. Sheila Douthit escorted six students on the "People to People" program including six countries. She related afterwards, "We realized how vital our freedom is when we were greeted with American patriotic songs while leaving our Soviet airline in Amsterdam." Mrs. Phyllis Giles visited Spain and England with her family and Mrs. Julia Sutcliffe explored the British Isles.

Two teachers who enjoyed cruises were Mrs. Chris Bardo, who sailed the Caribbean and Miss Diane Cook, who traveled north to Alaska.

AP seniors greet visiting college poet

Seniors dealt with Communism in the Stalin style in Darkness at Noon and love triangles in The Return of the Native.

A new twist to AP English was the arrival of Pan American University teachers Mrs. Jan Seale. Mrs. Seale, sponsored by Artists in Residence, showed students how to explicate and write poetry. They continued their study of poetry by reading Sound and Sense.

Freshman English students went back to the days of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table. They then moved from the first century into the sixteenth century with Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice.

Junior major works students created their own projects covering Shakespeare's play Macbeth to the short story "Occurrence at Owl Creek."

George Orwell's Animal Farm intrigued sophomores with its unusual plot concerning a colony of pigs controlled by a totalitarian government.

After floating down the Mississippi with Huck and Jim in The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, juniors learned the mechanics of writing research papers on literary topics.

In the holiday spirit, advanced Drama students traveled to day care centers and nurseries to present the Christmas plays, The Naughty Little Elf, The Toy Shop and The Night Before Christmas.

Students create projects for special assignments

"This is a baby test," insisted Mrs. Katherine Norman to her students being tested on the theorems and postulates of geometry. The class, as usual, moaned in disbelief.

Freshman students mastered the fundamentals of factoring, and practiced using graphs. Students learned to plot points and graph straight lines and curves.

Sophomore algebra students developed skill and accuracy in factoring.

graphing, and in the use of logarithms. As a special project, algebra students made models of various geometric shapes out of paper. Mr. Bruce Orr's major works classes learned the concepts of Algebra II.

Besides learning theorems and postulates, geometry students constructed acute and obtuse triangles, circles, and cones with a compass.

The trigonometry and elementary junction classes of Miss Catherine Walters were assigned a creative work project. Students made figures of different materials including plastic and string. Ellen Eisenlohr's figures were constructed of leaded glass.

Mrs. Clements' computer math students learned key punch operation and discovered how to read computer data. For a special assignment, they turned in a folder containing facts on how a computer functions and the different services performed by them.

Major works students entered research projects in the Regional Science Fair and attended the sixth Texas Junior Science, Engineering and Humanities Symposium on February 4. Foremost in their mind was the AP exam for which they studied extensively.

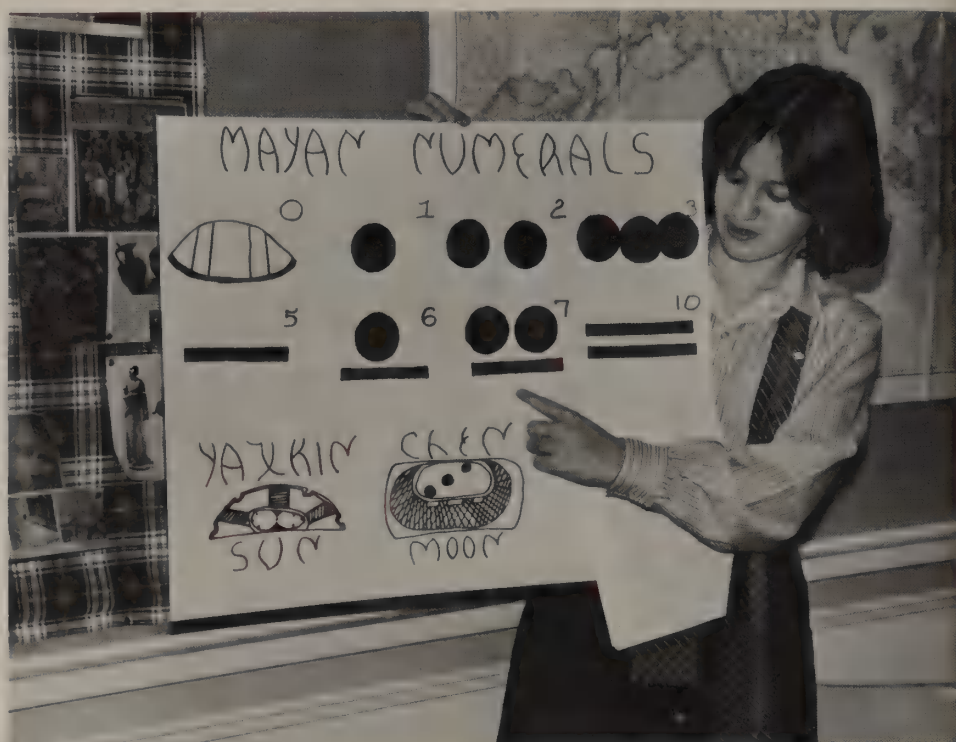

Biology students studied dominant and recessive genes involved in genetics and the composition of DNA and

RNA. Major works students worked on science fair projects such as the effect of pollutants on amino acids, the survival of goldfish under certain temperatures, and the improvement of the human body from repeated exercising.

Freshmen in physical science studied the metric system extensively. They looked at energy in its many forms and performed experiments to reinforce their knowledge. Students also studied pre-chemistry and physics theories.

Students competed in events concerning cultural knowledge, academic ability, and sports agility. The Christmas season gave German students the chance to learn Christmas carols and customs. German classes focused on the importance of the spoken language and made wide use of skills to practice pronunciation.

French classes also presented various dramas. On February 24, French classes of all levels attended a contest at North Texas State University where they competed in events such as poetry, drama, spelling bees, and musical composition. Anadara Braun, Joe Van Der Gracht, and Bruce Singleton received first place medals. In March, students took the National French Exam which tested their grammar, and reading comprehension.

Students enjoy making projects, seeing results

Creative Scots developed their talents through electives in the fine and practical arts.

Art students created an independent project from Thanksgiving to Christmas, with subjects ranging from needlepoint to oil painting. The advanced classes printed Christmas cards from linoleum blocks.

Band members traveled to Salado in the fall where they made a "one" in U.I.L. marching band competition.

Choir enrollment increased by fifty students and an unprecedented seventeen student singers made the all-region choir with ten advancing to all-state auditions. Both enjoyed the new facilities that were larger and better acoustically than the previous ones.

For a Christmas treat, the typing classes typed Christmas letters to Santa Claus and business letters for an imaginary ski resort. Students taking shorthand speeded up their notetaking.

and improved their secretarial skills. Under the supervision of woodshop instructor Mr. Mike Atteberry, students built a variety of objects ranging from water skis and dollhouses to spittoons.

In homemaking cooking classes, a "show and tell" project highlighted the close of each week. On Friday a student chef prepared a favorite gourmet dish for the class to sample. In sewing classes, students made skirts, shirts and pillows for their rooms.

Elementary accounting and business law students learned how to balance books and keep bank statements for businesses.

Second year mechanical drawing students learned the fundamentals of architectural design and were able to design their own cabin. Third year advanced students planned and built their own models of two-story homes.

Students learn basketball, volleyball, tennis to stay fit

Highlander Stadium saw its last football action in November when the Scots defeated J. J. Pearce. A bond election opted to replace the stadium, providing better athletic facilities for Highland Park's expanding physical education program.

Freshmen and sophomores worked to complete the required five trimesters of physical education which included swimming, team sports, cardiovascular fitness, and health.

Table tennis tactics: Lisa Turner and Jeanna Lane practice ping pong.

Kiss of life: Freshman Gilly Harris learns mouth to mouth lifesaving skills.

Swing your partner: Karen McQueen and Richard Cole practice square-dancing steps.

Extra classes offered by the physical education department attracted students. Lifesaving trained students in water safety and opened opportunities for lifeguard jobs during the summer. Gymnastics classes continued to make use of the equipment in the new gym. Racquet sports gave students the opportunity to play ping pong, paddle tennis, and tennis. Students who wanted further instruction in tennis enrolled in intermediate and advanced tennis. Students lifted weights to build and tone muscles. Square dancers "grabbed their partners" and learned the Virginia Reel.

Safety education filled the schedules of many 15 year olds. Students endured the 32 hours of classroom instruction while teachers braved the 12 hours of driving instruction. An additional 12 hours of observation made the student eligible to take the final driver's test.

Varsity Scots conclude season with win over Sherman Bearcats

The Varsity Football team ended their season with a victory over Sherman making theirs an 8-win and 2-loss year in district 13AAAA.

The Scots' biggest rival, the Plano Wildcats, visited Highlander Stadium prepared to win after their 1977 victory, but went home discouraged. As Coach Frank Bevers stated, "Old Plano used up all their luck last year." The Scots put 17 points on the scoreboard to Plano's 6, giving the Wildcats their first defeat of the year.

A large push toward the victory came from HP's "12th man," the spectators, at the September 29th game. Tickets were sold out almost two weeks before the game and extra seating had to be set up.

Leading the team as captains were seniors Lott McIlhenny, fullback; Pryor Blackwell, defensive tackle; John Allums, defensive tackle; Arvin Combs, defensive end; Harold McCoy, offensive guard; and junior Lance McIlhenny, quarterback.

The Scots covered a lot of territory in the 78-79 season. The "dynamic duo" of Lott and Lance McIlhenny teamed up to cover hundreds of yards. Lance completed 45.3% of his passes for 8 touchdowns. Yard makers were Lott rushing for 933 yards, Lance rushing for 840 yards, and Tom Burson, rushing for 879 yards.

Leading receivers Steve Rogers, making 3 touchdowns, Fred Skidmore, and Steve Thomas with 2 touchdowns, compiled 696 total yards.

Outstanding defenders John Allums, Dean Miller, Manuel de la Garza and Kit Case averaged 7.3 tackles per game, while Miller also recovered five fumbles.

H.P. Scots begin district play with win in Plano showdown

Opening their 1978 season with a victory, the Hi Park Scots crushed the Irving MacArthur Cardinals, 20-7. Lott McIlhenny led the team rushing for 101 yards at the September 7 victory.

The Scots hosted the Trinity Trojans and gained their second victory of the year. Penalties played a large part against the Scots as they were flagged 13 times for 141 yards. Fortunately, this had no effect on the 14-0 win.

After a week off to prepare for their first district game, the Scots hosted the team that they had been waiting for, the Plano Wildcats. The team, with the help of the huge crowd's spirit, killed the Cats 16-7. The Hi Park trio of Lance and Lott McIlhenny, and Tom Burson accounted for 280 yards. Lott steamed across the yard-line for the insurance points with 11 minutes to go.

Lake Highlands upset the Scots, giving them their first defeat, with a score of 25-15. Hi Park took a lead of 7-6 in the second quarter but fell behind 25-7. After Lott's two touchdowns, Fred Skidmore caught a 2-point pass ending the game 25-15.

Cooling off after their first loss of the year, the Scots shot down the Richardson Eagles 58-24. They summed up 737 yards in total offense. Steve Thomas caught a pass for a 31-yard T.D. Mike McGee teamed with Danny Presley for 55 yards of an 87 yard score. This Homecoming win gave the Scots a 2-1 standing in the season.

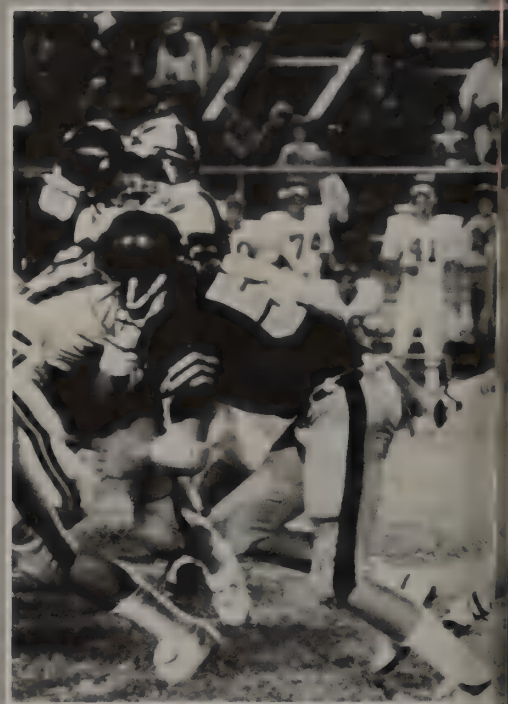

Head-on collision: John Allums and Jon Hendricks double up to tackle an opposing runner.

It's a steal: Kell Spikes intercepts a pass.

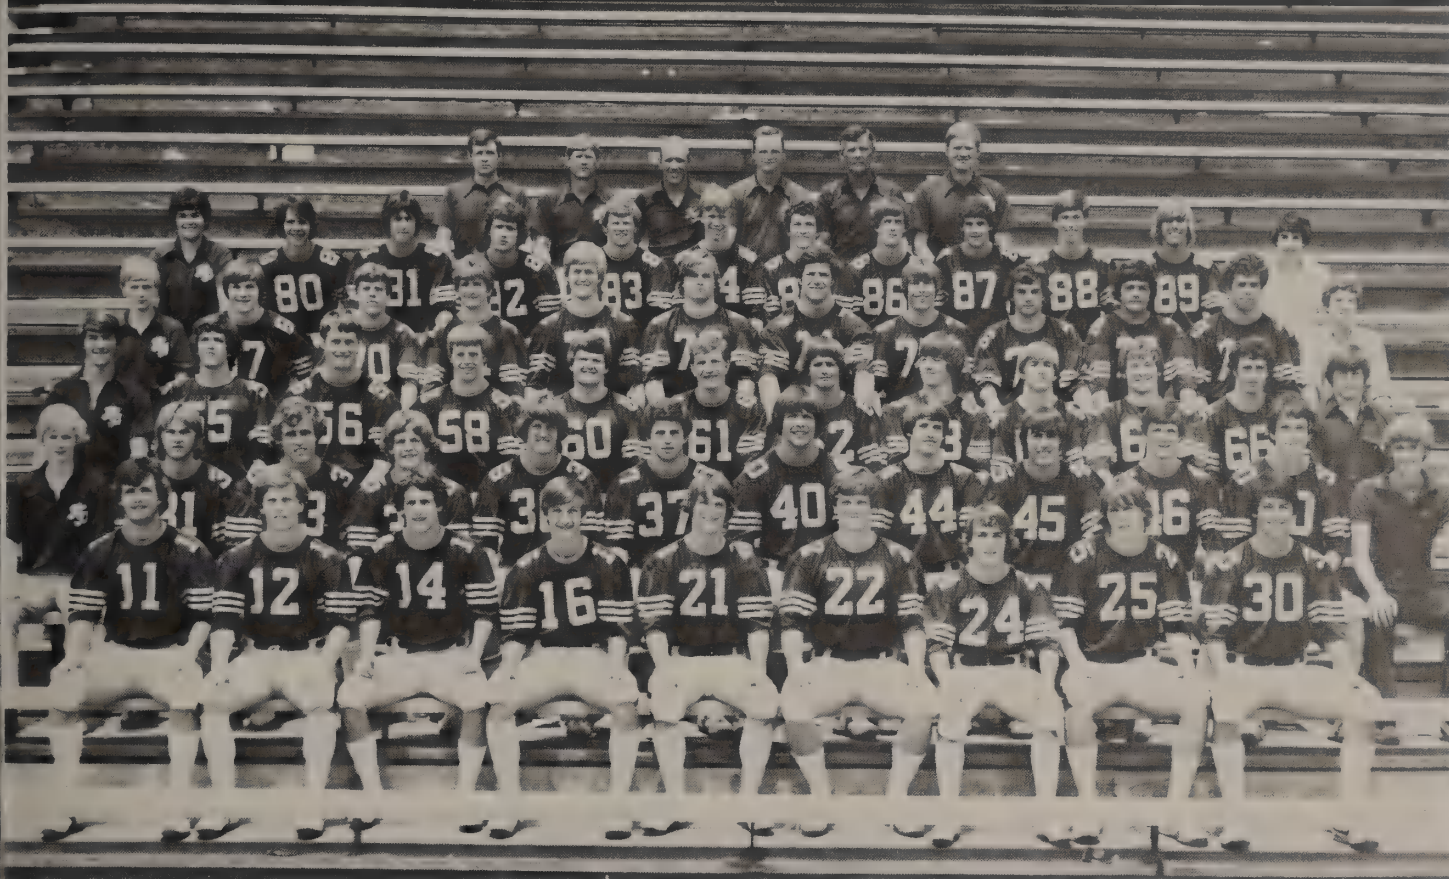

We're #1: Scots celebrate their victory over Plano.

Bottoms up: Tom Burson loses his balance and flip close to the goal.

Scots shut-out Denison 28-0, Berkner 35-0

The Scots traveled to Denison where they shut-out the Yellow Jackets 28-0. They rolled up 364 yards offense in their win. Tom Burson accounted for the team's first two touchdowns. Lott scored the third quarter touchdown while his brother Lance held the last score.

Hi Park was defeated by the Greenville Lions by an excruciating 28-27 loss on October 27. Tom Burson scored with 8:43 left jumping the score from 28-20 to a close 28-27. Scots tried to take the game with a fake kick. Lance held the ball instead of the usual John Thompson, but the play was broken up by two Lions covering Lance.

Scots took their next win at Berkner, 35-0. They accumulated 20 first-downs and ran for 287 yards. Lance McIlhenny scored the third quarter touchdown, while his brother Lance held the last score.

B-team Scots tally victories, finish at 7-2-1

B-Team Scots got off to smooth start by beating MacArthur 21-0. Manning Shannon ran 51 yards for a touchdown on the second play of the game. Rob Moerschell scored the other two touchdowns, and Mike Crow kicked three extra points.

The Scots came from behind to tie Trinity 21-21. Moerschell threw a 51 yard pass to Johnny Bullington resulting in the last of Moerschell's three touchdowns.

In the first district game the J.V. beat Plano 14-7 with Moerschell scoring the two touchdowns. The Scots lost a hard-fought battle to Lake Highlands 14-9. Shannon scored the touchdown and Crow kicked a 44-yard field goal.

Richardson fell to the Scots 19-10 with Moerschell and Shannon scoring the touchdowns, and Crow kicking two field goals. The J.V. rolled over Denison 35-23. Moerschell ran for two touchdowns and threw two touchdown passes to Murphy Martin. Shannon also supplied a touchdown.

Jeff Berry was brought in from the Varsity to replace the injured Moerschell at quarterback against Greenville. Rosser replaced Shannon and rushed for 143 yards on 29 carries. Jimmy Porter scored two touchdowns. Berry threw two touchdown passes to Lee Wood.

The B-team beat Berkner 21-0 with Shannon, Porter, and Rosser each scoring touchdowns. Despite a good effort the J.V. lost 21-0 to Pearce, who eventually took district. Hammack took over at quarterback with Buddy Adkins as the key receiver.

The J.V.'s last game of the season was against Sherman. Hammack threw three touchdown passes in the 33-7 win; two to Murphy Martin and one to Manning Shannon.

Freshman Scots finish season, take district championship 6-2

Freshmen Scots played hard as they went 6-2 for the season and captured a district championship.

The frosh dropped the first game of the season to Irving, but came back the following week to beat Denton Congress 3-0 in the first district contest. Pate Pearce kicked the winning field goal late in the fourth quarter.

The young Scots took their only district loss to Newman Smith. They bounced back in their next game against Vines and crushed the Plano team 49-0. Coach Dave Emler called the game "a complete victory" as the offense, defense, and kicking game all excelled.

Freshmen handed a tough Denton Strickland team its only defeat 22-16.

This was the biggest game of the year for the team and put them in the district lead.

The Scot gridders kept rolling as they defeated R. L. Turner and Williams. Bart Bevers had a 45 yard touchdown run and Cullen Davis had several big third down catches in the Williams game. The winning margin was provided by the defense as they got a safety in the final moments of the game.

Lewisville was the final victim of the Scots, 16-0, as the freshmen wrapped up the district championship. In the game, Pate Pearce kicked a 43 yard field goal.

The last game of the season against Vines was cancelled by Plano.

Extra effort: Gil Jenkins keeps a good grip on the ball as he lunges forward for tough down yardage.
Out, hut: Quarterback Bart Bevers barks out signals to the high powered Scot offense.

BASKETBALL

Roundballers end with 23-8 season record

Finishing their season with a 23-8 season record, the Varsity Basketball team captured third place in the district race.

Guided by captains, Davey Davis and David Milliorn, the fast break-style offense averaged over 68 points per game. The high point men were John Briggs and Larry Showalter averaging 13.2 and 12.4 points per game respectively. Kirk Patterson led the team in rebounds and blocked shots. Davey Davis had the most steals and assists.

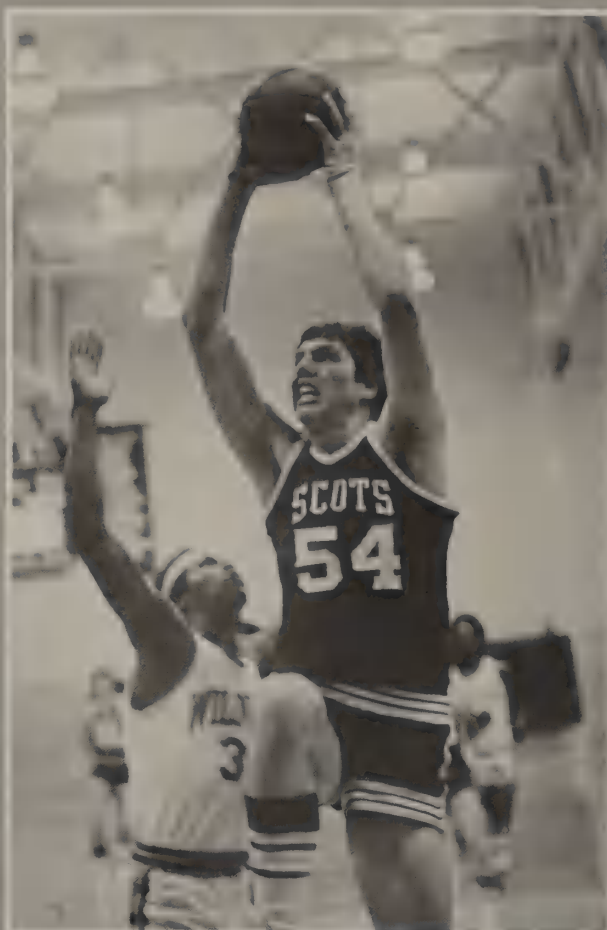

Coach Bo Snowden frequently substituted his seniors and capable juniors to keep the players fresh. Most of the Scots saw action in each game.

BASKETBALL

Varsity hosts, wins annual Scot Classic

Getting off to a good start, the Scots won four of the first five games before they engaged in tournament play.

H.P. roundballers won the Scot Classic with defeats over Longview and Bryan Adams. After losing in the first round of the Austin Invitational Tournament, the Scots compiled three straight victories to take the consolation title. In the Dr. Pepper Tournament, the varsity basketballers lost in the second round.

In front of a packed Highlander Fieldhouse, the Scots district championship hopes crumbled in a heartbreaking 56-57 loss to Lake Highlands in the final game of the season.

B-team roundballers rolled to a 22-4 season record and a third place tie in district 13-AAAA. The Scots won the first sixteen games of the season including victories in the R. L. Turner tournament and the Scot Classic.

In the first round of the district tournament, the young Scots revenged an earlier loss by beating Berkner and advancing to the second round. Coach Tom Shelton attributed the J.V.'s success to "team speed, quickness, and hustle."

The Freshman Blue and Gold teams coached by Mr. John Covin and Mr. Dave Emler both had frustrating seasons in a new district with a new format.

The fast-break style offense averaged 69.2 points per game with Robert Martin and Lex Fitzenhagen as high point men with 17.9 and 15.5 points per game, respectively. Stewart Rogers led the team in rebounds, and Mark McIllyar had the most steals and blocked shots.

Tracksters exhibit motivation, girls place third at state meet

For the fourth consecutive year, the girls' cross country team, captained by Laura Jordan and Dana Tinkle, qualified for the state meet, running to a third place finish in Georgetown on December 2.

After placing second in district and winning regionals, the team of Anne Beall, Shelley Branch, Mary Leslie Clements, Lynn Hankinson, Laura Jordan, Ellen Luce, and Dana Tinkle advanced to the state competition.

Jim Mouser coached both girls' and boys' cross country teams in order to prepare them for the more competitive 13-AAAA district. The teams practiced at White Rock Lake, running an average of eight to ten miles daily.

Completing a well-run season, the boys' cross country team, captained by Allen Shropshire and consisting of Mike Antosh, Tom Breedlove, Steve Bullington, Geza DeGall, John Guffey, and Chris Losey, finished third in district competition. Junior John Guffey placed fifth in regionals and advanced to state competition on December 2.

Junior varsity teams of both boys and girls ran well in competition. These teams were created to accommodate the growing number of track participants at Highland Park.

Poor weather impedes track performances

Inclement weather in February interrupted the training of the girls' track team, causing them to perform below their capability in the Richardson practice meet on February 14.

Coach Jim Mouser, along with captains Laura Jordan and Dana Tinkle, led the team in their daily workouts. Coach Mouser worked with both distance and sprint runners for about two hours every day.

Regular season opened February 24 at the Eastern Hills Relays in Fort Worth against the toughest competition the team faced all season. The district meet was held April 5 and 6 at Mesquite, ending a strong season.

Take off! Stewart Thomas leaps hurdles during practice.

Run away: Scot tracksters haul around the track.

Early success starts strong track season

Opening the season with a practice meet at North Garland on February 20, the boys' track team placed first overall with first place finishes from Mike Crow in the half-mile run, John Guffey in the mile, Steve Rogers in the 440 run, and the mile relay team consisting of Steve Rogers, Mike Crow, Murphy Martin, and Chris Busbee. Tom Burson finished first in the 330 intermediate hurdles, as did Pat Gibbons in the 120 high hurdles.

Captained by Steve Rogers and Allan Shropshire, the boys practiced from one and a half to two hours daily at Park A in preparation for district competition on April 20.

Two new coaches directed the training of the track team. Mr. Randy Smith, an algebra teacher at the high school, and Mr. Louis Powers, a science teacher at the middle school, co-trained both freshman and varsity squads. Coach Smith concentrated on training runners for distance events, while Coach Powers supervised the sprinting events.

The end: Runners pull up and rest after a strenuous afternoon workout.

Wait for me: Chris Busbee hands off to Murphy Martin in sprint relay practice.

Herrscher, L. Showalter, J. Stockard, D. Presley, D. Cohen, A. Natri, R. Todd, D. Godfrey.

Rain, weather spoil workouts, delay games

Opening the 1979 season with three cancelled scrimmages, the Scot baseball team's biggest rival was the weather. Rain, snow, and sleet kept the team off the field most of the month of February.

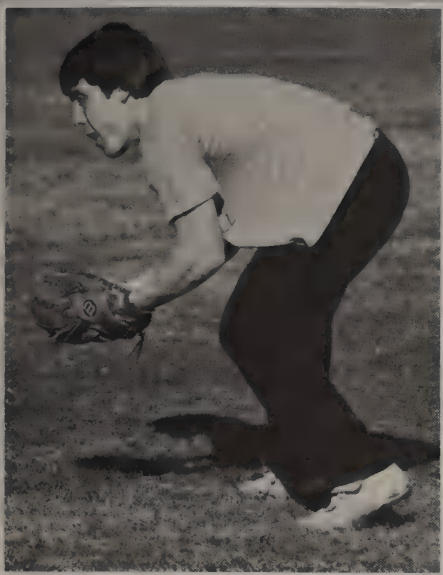

Coach Cecil Holmes kept the team "warmed up" with several days of weightlifting and ball throwing in the gym.

Seniors John Heal, Eddie Coker, and Mike McGee lead the team as tri-captains. With nine returning lettermen, two of which were named All-District players last year, the team had the varsity experience needed in the new 13-AAAA district.

Gotcha: John Heal grabs a runaway baseball.
Fastball: Jamie Stockard delivers a screamer.

Strike One: David Cohen catches a speeding pitch which eluded Danny Presley.

Varsity soccer plays rugged, enters district with 2-4 record

The boys varsity soccer team entered district with a strong pre-season record. The Scot machine defeated Pearce 1-0 as Mark Hancock scored the lone goal and Javier "Hustle" Millet played outstanding defense. In the next pre-season game the boys fell to North Mesquite 4-1. Lewisville also defeated the Scots 3-2 as Greg Sander and Mark Hancock each had goals, and Brad Taylor played aggressively at halfback. R. L. Turner fell to the varsity in the next game 5-0 as Greg Sander scored twice and Mark Hancock, Fon Huang, and Brad Taylor each scored once. Next the Scots met the Richardson Eagles and tied 1-1. The boys lost the game, however, when they lost the shootout. The final pre-season game pitted the Scots against the Pearce Mustangs. Greg Sander scored twice, but the Scots fell 3-2. The captains on the varsity were Cory Groves and David Simpson.

The Junior Varsity opened pre-season against North Mesquite and tied 2-2. Richard Reece and David Haggart scored two goals. Next the boys fell to a strong Richardson attack 10-0 but came back to defeat R. L. Turner 6-5. Mike Meadows had a hat trick and Clay Kennedy and Jay Reed scored two goals and one goal respectively. The Scots faced Lewisville in the final pre-season game and lost 3-2. Jay Reed and Clay Kennedy each scored once. David Haggart and Jay Reed were the captains on the junior varsity.

Siamese twins: Brad Baker saves a goal during a practice game.

Girls' soccer begins season with victories

Losing only one senior from last year, the girls' varsity soccer team began their second season with a strong showing. In the first pre-season game the varsity team defeated North Garland 5-1. Libby Beall had two goals, and Carrie Delius played outstanding defense. Next the girls met the Mesquite Skeeters and won 5-2. Libby again scored twice, and the defense played tight.

The first district game pitted the Scot girls against an aggressive Lake Highlands team. The Scots led 2-1 at the half but lost the game 5-2. Laura Howard and Ann Summitt each scored once. Next the varsity met a first-year Plano team and captured their first district game 2-1. Libby Beall and Ann Summitt each had goals, and Carrie Delius played outstandingly. The captains on the varsity were Libby Beall and Susan Swanson.

The junior varsity, mainly composed of new players, opened the pre-season and tied North Garland 2-2. Mary Huck scored both goals. Next the girls beat an undefeated Hockaday team 4-2. Mary Huck scored all four goals, and Mary Sandifer played tight defense. The girls played Mesquite twice and won both 8-1 and 5-0. Susan Reed was high scorer in both games, and Karen Casey and Holly McGuire played excellent defense. The junior varsity opened district against Lake Highlands and lost a hard-fought battle 1-0. Tina Smith made many spectacular saves in the goal, and Blair Gibbs and Pat Del Rose played tight defense. The captains on the junior varsity were Suzanne Shirley and Ellen Wiggins.

Leader of the pack: Laura Blakely races past the defenders in a practice game.

New district proves difficult, determined team works harder

The varsity volleyball team entered the tough 13-AAAA district and emerged with three victories. In the first home game against Plano, the Scots won one game 15-0 but lost the other two 2-15, 4-15. The DeSoto Tournament followed, and the girls won a consolation trophy by defeating Kimball and Red Oak. Next the Scots met the Berkner Rams and utilized consistent serving and bumping in a close game but lost 14-16, 13-15. The Greenville Lions fell to the girls' attack, however, 15-9, 15-11. Next the Scots won their second consolation trophy in the Lancaster Tournament by defeating Rockwall and Red Oak.

In the second half of district, the Scots battled the Berkner Rams in the closest match of the season: 7-15, 15-12, 16-18. The girls combined excellent spiking, setting, blocking, and great determination. Soon after, the Scots defeated the Lions again in a come-from-behind match 9-15, 15-11, 15-5. In their last home game, the girls earned their final victory against Lake Highlands 15-12, 16-14. The captains for the varsity team were Beth Burford and Susan Swanson.

The junior varsity, composed of many new players, achieved two victories in district. They began with two non-district wins over Newman Smith 15-12, 15-11 and Garland 15-6, 15-9. Their first district win came at the hands of the Greenville Lions 15-12, 7-15, 15-9. Next the girls went to the Plano Tournament and lost their first match, but came back to beat Bryan Adams in a hard-fought match 15-12, 7-15, 15-9. Their second district victory came against Lake Highlands as the girls won 15-12, 15-11. The captains for the B-Team were Cissy Cinatl and Carolyn Hampton.

Tennis team meets after school in preparation for tournaments

Tennis team members met tough competition in the Metro League in district 13-4A.

To prepare for tournaments, the team ran one mile a day and practiced roughly two hours after school. Those who wanted to compete within the team, played against each other on a challenge ladder.

In early fall, the team played dual tournaments with area schools to prepare for spring tournaments.

Over Christmas holidays, Jane Johansen advanced to the semi-finals in the Cotton Bowl Tournament, the most important tournament in Texas for adults and juniors.

In state rankings, Shane Read placed thirteenth in the 14 year old division. In the 16 year old division, Talbot Davis ranked second in state and Jane Johansen ranked seventeenth in the 18 year old division.

The Garland High School Invitational Tennis Tournament on February 16 and 17 opened the spring district tournaments. The Scots won the first-place trophy 39 points ahead of second place Richardson.

The team looked forward to other tournaments at Duncanville, Dallas, Plano, and Wichita Falls in February and March. District was played on April 6 and 7.

Terri Cunningham, captain of the girl's team, and Talbot Davis, captain of the boy's team, helped the tennis team's new coach, Miss Kay Kyle, adjust to the new program.

Smooth return: Brian Hoover makes a perfect volley at the net during tournament play.

Step, pivot, swing: Nicky Phillips prepares to ace his opponent with a serve.

Scot swimmers host District, attend regional meet at S.M.U.

Scot swimmers divided into varsity and junior varsity teams for the first time in 3 years. The varsity group worked out during first period leaving sixth period for JV workout time.

Highland Park hosted the District Swim Meet on February 5. In district competition, the boys finished third and the girls finished fourth. The top six swimmers in each event qualified for the Regional Meet held later in the year. Both boys' and girls' 200-yard medley relays advanced to Regionals. Kim Carson, Bruce Hayes, Allyson Parr, and Caroline Thyssen qualified for Regionals in two individual events and one relay. Kris Beck, Elizabeth Benton, Susan Clarke, Dan Holman, David Hutcheson, Brad Lane, Adair McKnight, Kevin Meek, Anne Rose, Reed Shawver, and Nancy Wylie competed in the District Meet and qualified for Regionals. H.P.'s divers, Curt Anderson and David Shelmire, also advanced to Regionals.

Dual meets against Pearce, Mesquite, North Mesquite, Irving, and Irving MacArthur filled the meet schedule. The team participated in a meet at S.M.U. consisting of only relays. The T.I.S.C.A. North Zone Holiday Invitational was held at H.P. the weekend before Christmas vacation. Students had an opportunity to see some of the top swimmers in the state during the meet. Curt Anderson, Kim Carson, Bruce Hayes and Caroline Thyssen competed at the Texas Inter-Scholastic Coaches Association Championships in January in San Antonio.

Streamlined: Curt Anderson gains the needed height and arch for a back dive.

Breath-taking: Bruce Hayes speeds down the pool in the medley relay.

"Up to Parr": Coach Mike Sorrells discusses Allyson Parr's last race.

Golfers compete for district in tough 13-AAAA competition

Highland Park's 1978-79 Golf team was again a major contender for the district crown. Leading the Scots were two year captain Rob Addington and junior co-captain Ted Nash. Coach Gerald Everitt commented, "With a good year by the older boys and the younger ones coming through, this team could make it to the State meet." Everitt also stated that the competition in the new 13-AAAA district was tougher than the old 10-AAAA district, with Plano and Berkner having strong teams.

The boys practiced at Dallas Country Club everyday and played in tournaments with neighboring schools. In the first tournament at Ridglea Country Club, the Scots placed third paced by Rob Addington's 73. Matt Schooler and Jud Francis shot 75's.

At the H.P. Invitational, junior Matt Schooler led the team with a 74, winning the third place individual honors. Backed by Addington's 75, Lamar Roberts' 78, and Ted Nash's 83, the Scot golfers claimed the first place team trophy. The Scots most important non-district tournament was in Austin, March 2 and 3.

The girl's team, consisting of six members, also practiced at the Dallas Country Club during the week. The girls were led by senior captains Carol Meek and Kaki Roach. The girls golfers played in three tournaments during off season. The team's best finish was a third place at the H.P. Invitational in November.

Coach Everitt was pleased with the girls' improvement and looked forward to Spring competition.

Putt putt: Carol Meek addresses the ball.
Get in the swing: Stephen Barthelow smooths out his stroke during practice.

BOYS TEAM: FRONT ROW: M. Cox, J. Francis, C. Hubbard, G. Gill, T. England, J. Mills.
SECOND ROW: D. Cottle, M. Jones, G. Slaughter, S. Barthelow, C. Warren. THIRD ROW: R. Addington, S. Pierce, L. Roberts, M. Schooler, T. Nash, G. Everitt.
GIRLS' TEAM: FRONT ROW: M. Rush, D. Lewis, K. Roach, C. Meek, L. Johnston.

Double fun: Daphne Lewis and Kaki Roach simultaneously practice their swings.

GYMNASTICS

Gymnastics fill leisure hours for HP tumblers

Gymnastics joined the list of varsity sports with Dennis Thornton as coach. Girls competed in balance beam, uneven parallel bars, floor exercise and vaulting. Boys competed in floor exercise, pommel horse, rings, parallel bars, vaulting and high bar.

Competition at meets included two categories: compulsory and optional. Compulsory routines were those that all participants performed. Optionals gave gymnasts the opportunity to put their own combinations together. Scoring was from one to ten, with 8.5 considered competitive. Scots attended the regional meet at Richardson High School on April 6 and 7.

Team members performed for the student body at the Junior Class Assembly on January 19. The exhibition included flip-flops, cartwheels, hand springs and back flips.

Physical education classes offer students various activities

P.E. classes at Highland Park boomed with new sports this year. Some of the athletic courses offered included Raquet Sports, Square Dancing, Tennis Play, advanced Life-saving, Weight Training, Gymnastics, and Outdoor Education.

Five trimesters of P.E. were required for graduation but because of the variety and popularity of activities offered many students continued their physical education throughout their high school years. Senior Bonnie Peters says she found P.E. "a good opportunity to take off some of the mental stresses of school."

During the mandatory trimesters, students learned the importance of conditioning through cardiovascular training. Then for the next two trimesters students practiced basic swimming skills in Aquatics and fundamental skills in Team Sports.

Highland Park's gym teachers included Frank Bevers, Gynne Manson, Mike Sorrells, Dennis Thornton, Ben Tyler, and new addition Kay Kyle.

Girls compete in intramural competition

"Intramurals is lots of fun," commented seniors Kate Hanneman and Elizabeth Muir who played on the winning volleyball team this year. Many girls who loved competing were involved in interschool competition. This year there were a total of 100-150 girls who took part in intramurals.

Participation was on a voluntary basis and the girls organized their own teams. Ping-pong and badminton tournaments were held before school. Volleyball, softball and basketball games were scheduled for after school.

Physical education teacher, Mrs. Gynne Manson, scheduled the tournaments for each sport according to grade levels. Freshman and sophomores competed together while juniors and seniors played against each other. The competitions were held three days a week. The prize for the winning team was to have their picture in the Highlander.

The underclassmen and upper-classmen volleyball winners played against each other in an exhibition game at Open House in March.

PING PONG WINNERS: Jennifer Ladd and Elizabeth Molsen.

SC introduces "Scots Got Pride" cups

Coch Cecil Holmes and Mrs. Ruth Ann Vineyard, a new sponsor, guided the Student Council through a busy year.

The sale of Scot cups, proclaiming "Scots Got Pride," was the first money-raising project of the year. The Howdy Dance followed and gave students the chance to get acquainted. Preceding the dance was the search for the Super Scot Spies. The tenth person in each grade to question the spy received a free dinner at a local restaurant. A disc jockey provided music at the dance and Camie Rodgers and Pris Shytles announced the friendliest boy and girl in each grade.

The Student Council began making preparations for the Homecoming Dance to be held on September 13. White sails accompanied by decorations in light blue, navy blue, and green suggested the theme, "Come Sail Away." King Cobra, a prominent Austin band, provided music for the exciting and profitable dance.

After approval by the Student Council, President Arvin Combs appointed six seniors to the Executive Committee: Mike Bagg, Audrey Loftis, Stacy Martin, Charlotte Turner, Joe van der Gracht, and Dale Walter. These students joined the other officers in heading committees.

Vice-President Mike Drinkwater and Stewart Thomas headed the improvement committee which re-evaluated the value of advisory, worked on approval for 8-10 minute passing periods, and looked at the possibility of having future dances in the new gym.

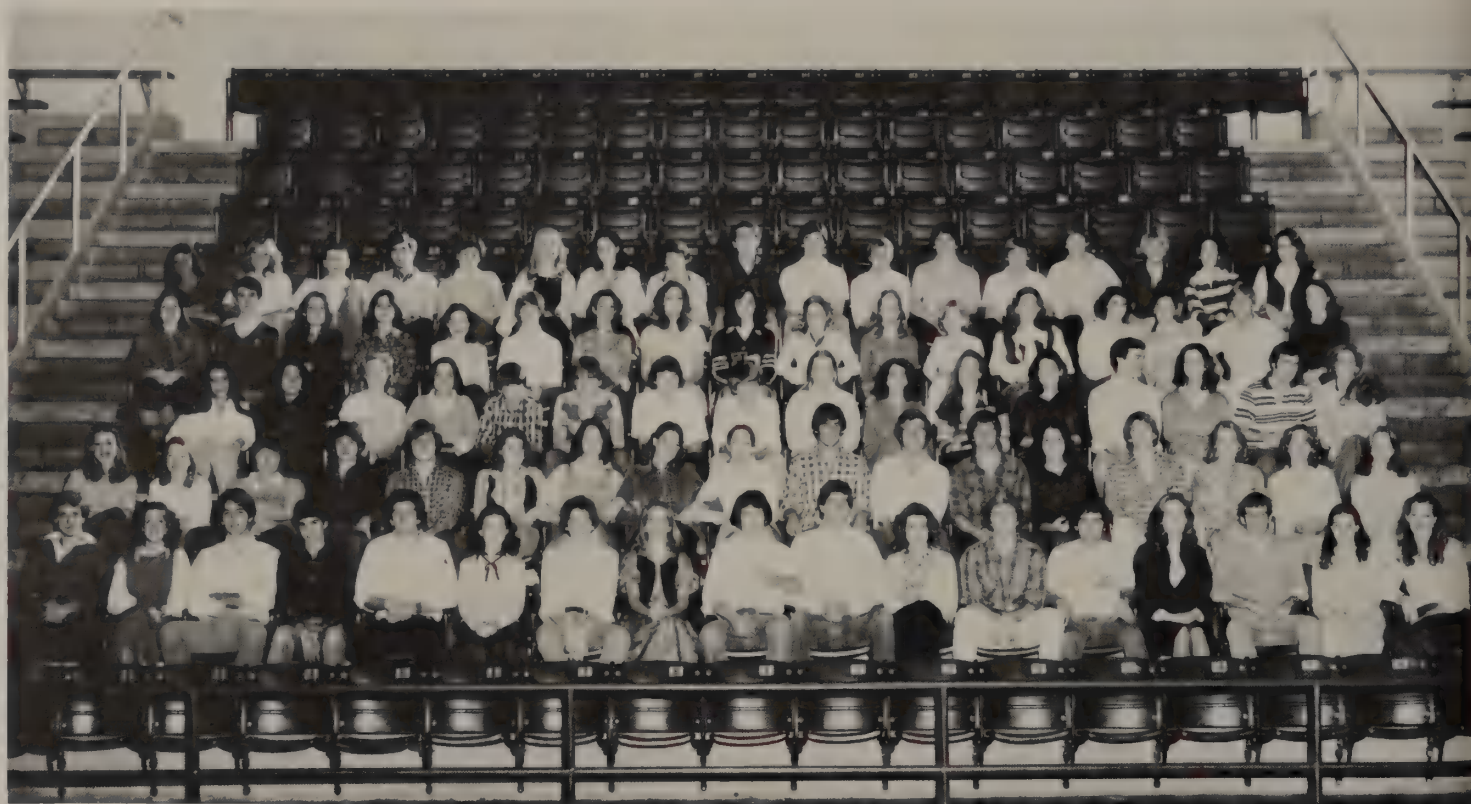

Camie Rodgers and Pris Shytles led the social committee which decorated for dances and organized the Teacher's Tea, held on February 14. Susan Swanson, Joe van der Gracht, and Dale Walter accepted students' suggestions and initiated ideas for new cafeteria dishes. They also worked to get public address systems and clocks in every room.

Sally Smith took charge of the welfare committee and handled the toy drive. Charlotte Turner headed the Devotional Committee and saw that morning and lunch prayers were given. Chairmen of the scrapbook committee, Audrey Loftis and Stacy Martin, compiled various mementos for the scrapbook.

In December, the Executive Committee approved the appointment of seniors Jay Marshall and Carolyn Hurt; juniors Philip Chalk and Vicky Hexter; sophomores David Swanson and Beth Martin, and freshmen Jeff Walter and Blair Gibbs to the Student Court. David White, parliamentarian of the Student Council, served as chairman.

The Student Council Supershow II in January was the final money-raising project of the year. Hosted by emcees Mike Drinkwater and Camie Rodgers, the show featured music varying from "The Ark" to "Ain't Talking About Love."

Busy bees: Co-editors Sophie Fullingim and Spence Kendrick rush to finish their layouts for the next issue.

Bagpipe loses readers, funds with new subscription policy

Subscriptions were the new rule for Bagpipe readers as revised regulations required the Bagpipe to stop the sale of newspapers in second period.

Under the leadership of co-editors Spence Kendrick and Sophie Fullingim, the editorial staff tackled such topics as the new stadium, attendance problems, alcohol abuse, rising cafeteria prices and the need for a cleaner school.

Co-business managers Yvette Myers and David Bagg directed the advertising staff in selling a record number of advertisements.

Bi-weekly meetings of the staff, after the paper had been "put to bed," brought fun and food to the staffers as the Bagpipe dinners had a theme each week. Highlights included the "Disco Dinner" and the "Pajama Party."

Columns by the co-editors, cartoons by Philip Chalk and feature articles kept readers amused, while the news pages were under the control of news editor Martha Stocks. Hi Park's entry into the tough 13-4A district was kept up-to-date by the co-sports editors Ken Luce and Jamie Stockard.

The Bagpipe, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Reyburn Meyers and business assistant Miss Gladys Bradshaw, entered competitions sponsored by the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, the Texas High School Press Association, the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the University Interscholastic League at Austin.

Results of the competitions were received in the spring. Spence Kendrick was honored with a proficiency citation from the Texas Interscholastic Press Conference for a news story on the new stadium.

The Bagpipe staff joined with the Highlander staff in the spring to give the annual publications picnic.

Highlander staff workcrews keep yearbook on schedule

While attending a summer yearbook workshop at SMU, Co-editors Ginger Bell and Carol MacGregor won the Award of Excellence for a Superior Dummy. The dummy included theme ideas, layout designs and special effects techniques.

After construction workers completed the new Highlander office, associate co-editors Lisa Corey and Martha Taylor helped Ginger and Carol move in furniture and organize materials.

The month of August marked the beginning of ad sales. Co-business managers Kathryn Dockery and Linda Haseltine, with their staff of 27 students, sold 117 pages worth of ads to Dallas businessmen, Highland Park students, and their parents.

Saturday morning workcrews, held at Carol's house, kept the 32 editorial staff members working hard to make the monthly deadlines.

Periodically through the year, staff members took a break from their work to enjoy parties. Gag gifts and poems were the hit of the Christmas party, held at Ginger's house. The Highlander also hosted the publication picnic with the Bagpipe staff members as guests.

Initiation of first year sponsor Miss Katherine Carpenter included midnight visits from the co-editors the night before deadlines and a surprise doughnut birthday cake. Miss Gladys Bradshaw kept track of the money taken in for yearbook and ad sales and advised the business managers.

Round Table discusses topics, current events

Delving into many different topics of public interest, Round Table members met bi-monthly at school and also at individual homes to tell about the information which they researched.

Their sponsor Mrs. Sheila Douthit, club president Helen Harrison, and secretary Kevin Arps led the 25-member club in discussions about issues, such as the oil problems in the United States and abroad, the growing professionalism and use of drugs in the Olympics, and the pros and cons of the death penalty. The group took different sides of the topics, researching all the sides under debate.

Round Table members held their annual initiation breakfast at White Rock Lake in late October. The new members applied for membership at the beginning of the year. Each new member needed recommendations from three teachers in order to be accepted. Members were then selected by a committee made up of Round Table members.

1978-1979 LEO CLUB EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS: David White, Pryor Blackwell, John Allums, Cedric Burgher, John Thompson, Mike Lafitte, Brett Poston, Rob Addington, Malcolm Ross, and Lance McIlhenny.

Leo Club members held a bowling tournament in November at the Cotton Bowling Palace. There were no actual winners, but a donation was taken up and added to their treasury.

As Christmas rolled around, the Leo Club donated money to buy Christmas presents for foster children. The money came from dues and fines imposed by the tailtwister.

The club invited old and new members to attend the third annual Leo Club dance. "King Cobra" provided the music for the occasion, held on March 10 at the Stadium Club.

"The distinguished young officers of the Leo Club" who led the meetings were President Mike Lafitte, Vice President John Thompson, Secretary Cedric Burgher, and Treasurer Brett Poston. The Board of Directors included Rob Addington, John Allums, Lance McIlhenny, Malcolm Ross, Steve Thomas, and David White.

Members chose Pryor Blackwell to entertain the club as tailtwister. He told of embarrassing or ridiculous things which happened to the members and then fined them an appropriate sum.

Aiding the officers and serving as the club's sponsors were Mr. Dennis Day and Mr. Gerald Smith.

Board leaders screen work, print Tartan

The 1978-79 school year was one of several "firsts" for the Tartan. For the first time, officers were elected rather than appointed. In addition, the staff found a way to significantly reduce production costs. They did their own printing, assisted by Mrs. Anita Jordan.

Literary Board Chairman Burns Cooper and Vice-Chairman Martha Frase organized groups to criticize submissions and lay-out accepted materials. Secretary Becky Chalk helped Treasurer Max Wright send out patron letters soliciting support for the publication. The Art Board screened the work submitted and illustrated the poems and stories included.

Last year's board left the magazine financially sound. Additional funds came from patrons' support and the proceeds of an assembly at which "Nothing Strikes Back" entertained. The magazine went on sale at the PTA Open House in March for $2.00.

Mrs. Doris Warburton sponsored the Literary Board while Mr. James Carter supervised the Art Board. Miss Paula Duckworth advised and aided the magazine's Special Art Board.

FCA chapter attracts new girls division

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes became more nationally active this year. A higher number of meetings helped it to achieve its goal of being a better chapter.

The FCA sold programs at football games as their main fund raising project. The profits bought tapes, films, and books to help illustrate their discussions.

A guest speaker, Josh McDow, came and spoke to the boys about Christian principles in athletics. Many times the boys divided into huddle groups to discuss Bible passages and to share their feelings and experiences.

The 1978-'79 officers included: Kirk Patterson, president; Jeff Wylie, vice-president; and Nelson Bell, secretary. The club sponsor was coach Bo Snowden.

The FCA, ordinarily a program for boys, benefited this year by the formation of a chapter section for girls. The girls also had huddle meetings and learned ways of building a Christian relationship through athletics.

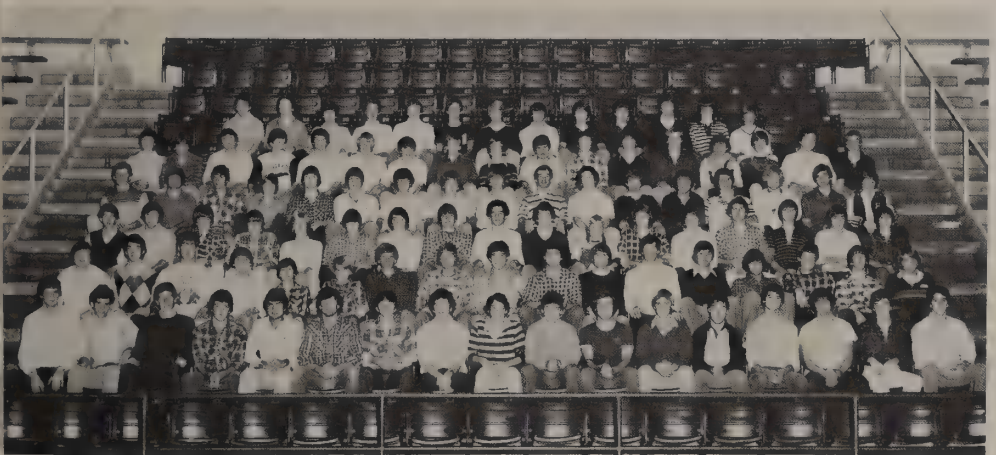

The girls had two successful bake sales and the proceeds were used to finance a little sister or brother at the Buckner Orphanage in January. Each girl picked a little boy or girl and took them to parks and played with them periodically throughout the remainder of the year.

This year's officers: Susan Swanson, president; Carolyn Hampton, vice-president; Tracy Harbor, secretary; and Ellen Luce, treasurer; led the club under the supervision of sponsor Miss Debbie Holder.

Pep boosters sell stickers to raise cash

Summer workcrews and enthusiastic support started the members of the Spirit Committee off on a good foot this year.

Heading the committee were seniors Matt Aldredge, Kathy Baldwin, Barbe Beattie, and sponsor Mrs. Gynne Manson.

Along with the Spirit Committee's annual fund-raising activities like the spring bake sale, and the selling of blue and gold bumper stickers, the group also introduced the spirit towel. The blue and gold towels marked with the words "spirit, spirit, spirit," were sold to the student body during the week of the Plano game.

Money raised by the Spirit Committee went towards buying the paper, paints, streamers, balloons, and tape utilized in the decoration of the gym for Friday pep-rallies.

Spirit Committee members were expected to maintain passing grade averages and good conduct grades.

Members speak on vacations in Great Britain

Glimpses of foreign culture tempted Travel Club members as students recounted some of their ventures abroad.

Blanten Filak, who lived in England in 1971 and 1972, gave a detailed slide presentation and discussion of the country. He said he had come to know and enjoy the English by going to school with them.

Brad Taylor shared his memories of his summer tour of Europe. Brad spent his summer tour primarily in England with a side trip to Scotland. Besides playing tourist, he participated in soccer games against English teams and learned more about the sport from them.

Brandon Wynn spoke on Artic Fishing, one of the most unusual topics discussed. He, with his father and two brothers, camped in tents by Great Bear Lake in Northwest Canada for two weeks during the summer of 1977. With the help of their Eskimo fishing guide, the Wynns caught many fish, the largest weighing a whopping forty-five pounds. Brandon said of his experience, "The sun never went down. Sunsets usually lasted for about six hours, but it was cold all the time."

Speech team recites poetry, prose, oratory

Poetry, prose, dramatic interpretation, extemporaneous speaking and oratory kept the speech team busy under the supervision of Mrs. Doris Simpson, speech coach.

Preparing selections for performing at tournaments was the main objective of the speech team. Through hard work and excellent presentations the team was able to advance repeatedly into semi-final and final rounds at tournaments, gathering enough points to receive the honor of qualifying for the chance to enter National competition.

Two members of the team, seniors Becky Farmer and Drew Spies, qualified for State competition by advancing to finals and earning high ranks in these rounds. Trophies were won by Drew Spies for poetry competition, and junior Philip Chalk for an entry into a poster-ticket competition.

Several members of the team gathered enough individual points from tournaments to become members of the National Forensic League.

Other than tournaments, the team occupied itself with such activities as recording children's stories for needy elementary schools, and preparing for events in the University Interscholastic League competition.

Folsom talks on leadership, guests listen

The Highland Park Key Club sponsored a leadership breakfast in October with guest Mayor Bob Folsom speaking on the qualities of a good leader. Mike Bagg and Eddie Coker also entertained the visitors singing "A Wedding Song."

The Key Club enjoyed outside activities such as rodeos, wrestling matches, bowling tournaments, and hockey games throughout the year. They also hosted the annual faculty basketball game in the spring.

The Key Club sponsored a fundraising project which the student body's participation made successful. The members sold spirit mugs picturing a fighting Scot and different logos representing various sports.

The 1978-79 officers included President Jeff Bailey, Vice-President John Heal, Secretary Mike Read, and Treasurer Greg Wysocki.

Songs, skits, small talk provide fun for girls at August picnic

Beginning the year with the Big Sister-Little Sister picnic at Williams Park, the all-girl Hi-Lites club got off to an exciting start.

New high schoolers became acquainted with the older girls as they enjoyed food, songs, skits, and cheers. Seniors Eddie Coker, Cathy Cummings, and Dawn Lallier entertained the girls with songs, and the Hi-Lite officers performed a skit and sang to each of the four classes. The varsity cheerleaders led the group in cheers to end the evening.

Following the second football game of the year, the Hi-Lites and the Student Council co-sponsored the Howdy Dance with "I'd Like to Get to Know You" as the theme. While the dance was underway, the two friendliest Scots of each grade were announced.

Janie Donosky hosted the Mother-

Daughter tea October 29 at her home where girls attended with their mothers.

Girls got the chance to invite the boys, as well as reminisce about the fifties, at the fall Hi-Lite dance, "Sock Hop." Couples jitter-bugged and twisted to music, wearing leather jackets and bobbie socks. Manuel de la Garza won the Hi-Lite King election and was crowned at the dance.

Other events such as a coke party for transfer students and Christmas caroling provided fun for members. Meetings were held every other Thursday and the programs included such activities as a leg contest, a variety of vocalists, bands, and demonstrations of different contemporary dances.

Mrs. Grace Parrish sponsored the club and aided the officers in planning events for the year.

Lads and Lassies participate in spring concerts, contests

Lads and Lassies choir members started the year off in high style with a "Roaring Twenties" picnic and dance at the DeGolyer estate overlooking White Rock Lake. Members and their dates dined on the lawn of the mansion and stayed to dance under the stars.

Hopes for a spring contest trip to Galveston inspired choir members to make fund raising a top priority in the fall. Candy, chocolate, coupon books, and Christmas cards were among the items the Scot singers sold to achieve their goal.

Seventeen talented singers were selected for the All-Region choir in late fall. Cathy Cummings, Becky Chalk, and Missy Thomas went on to be named members of the prestigious All-State Choir. Tracey Samples was named first alternate to the choir.

Christmas concerts provided a busy season for Lads and Lassies members. The choir performed at The Southland Life Center, The Park Cities Rotary Club, The University Park Methodist Church, and The Highland Park Methodist Church.

Rehearsals for West Side Story began after the Christmas holidays. The leading roles of Maria and Tony were played by Becky Chalk and Drew Spies. The musical opened April 5 for a three day run.

After months of preparation, the choir participated in the annual U.I.L. contest held on February 3. Both a full choir and girls' chorus was entered.

Choir officers Joe Clark, Cathy Cummings, Susan Cleaver, Pris Shytles, Tripp Stuart, Luellen Jones, Becky Farmer and Allison Williams ruled the 64 singers with an iron claw until they named their successors at the annual spring banquet.

All-girl choir sells candy to help funds

Revelaires choir members kept busy with fund-raising projects, caroling, parties, and preparing for the musical West Side Story.

The year started with an after-school bake sale. The choir sold sour balls and chocolate candies, as well as coupon books of three dollars which enabled the purchaser to obtain discounts at local stores.

During the Christmas season, the choir sold candles and Christmas cards. They spread Christmas cheer by caroling at the homes of elderly people in Highland Park. The choir gave a concert at St. Thomas' Church and later attended a Christmas party at Judy Jericho's. The members exchanged gag gifts at the party.

Revelaires choir members who participated in the musical West Side Story, included Carolyn Floyd, Judy Jericho, and Pam Nichols.

Fund raising events occupy singers' time

This school year proved to be very profitable for the Highlandaires Choir. The 26 members held bake sales and sold candles, Christmas cards, and sour balls.

President Cynthia Jones, Vice-President Scott Farrar, Secretary Elizabeth French, Treasurer Robby Watson, Historian Kathy Blakely, and Librarians Ross Carlton and Barbara Armstrong sponsored various parties with the choir's earnings. These festivities included spaghetti dinners, roller skating parties, and a Christmas gathering at which gifts were exchanged.

The first week in February marked the participation of the singers in U.I.L. contests. Scott Milliorn, Mike Steele, and Chris Lallier all received a superior rating in the solo competition. Eleven boys and one girl also prepared for their dancing parts in the spring musical West Side Story.

UIL contest, caroling, keep singers busy

Choralaires choir members kept up a fast tempo during the school year with fund raising projects, competition, and parties.

The beginning choir was primarily made up of freshman, sophomore, and junior girls. Under the instruction of Mr. Don Waugh, the girls learned the basics of music composition.

Selling sweet treats in October and candles in December, the choir raised money for their various projects. Choralaires combined with the other choirs and caroled in the halls at school and homes in the Park Cities. Afterwards, Choralaires joined with Revelaires for the annual Christmas party.

In January and February, the group began practicing solos for the University Interscholastic League Competitions.

The president of Choralaires was Lynn Hankinson, Vice-President Nancy Overton, Secretary Rebecca Nix, Treasurer Julie Baxter, and Librarian Carol Drake.

Lassie support brings Scotties spirit, victory

Dressed in traditional Scottish attire, the Lassies of Highland Park Band helped push the fighting Scots through victories with their support.

The 22 Lassies practiced during the summer to perfect their dancing and piping abilities. They participated in every varsity half-time show, exhibiting their talents and skills.

During home games, Gina Wheeler performed the traditional Scottish drum dance. In the spring, Lassies visited the Middle School to recruit new members for the 1979 school year.

The Lassies made arrangements to travel to Orlando, Florida in the summer of 1979. They planned to march in field competition and parade down the main streets of Disney World.

Leadership was provided by Lassie commander Ellen Burke, Pipe Major Blair Berry, Pipe Sergeants Cathy Hay and Susan Swarner, Dance Major Gina Wheeler, and Assistant Dance Major Colleen Sweeney.

Band places in competition, raises funds

Highland Park band members kept up their tradition of filling the school with spirited music. The band received the spirit stick for their enthusiasm during the Plano football game. At a critical play during the game, the fighting Scot band lifted the football team's spirits by playing the theme song from "Rocky." During the Homecoming pep rally, the famed Boogie Brigade announced their faculty prince and princess, who were chosen for their overall friendliness as teachers. The 1978 princess was Mrs. Elysia Holt and the princes were Mr. Don Brown and Dr. Lawrence Puckett.

The band raised money by selling candy bars in order to attend a contest in Orlando, Florida. The candy, popular to many students, raised $2,500 for the members. The band also participated in the Parade of Champions, a contest among other area high schools. They ranked in the first division in University Interscholastic League contests for the tenth straight year.

The officers included: Murray Rice, president; Sarah Pierce, vice-president; Jill Bailey, secretary; Ann Summitt, librarian; Burns Cooper, treasurer; Tommy Wiener, publicity-historian; and Stuart Pingree and Kevin Arps, co-equipment managers. The band held their Christmas ball on December 15 in the girls' gym where they danced to the music of the local group, "Motion."

Members play holiday tunes for teachers

Orchestra members worked diligently to prepare for various contests. Don Rowe and Mary Mills participated in All-Region Orchestra. Don Rowe also advanced to All-State Orchestra.

During Christmas they helped create the holiday spirit, performing for the general public at the Southwestern Life Building. They also played Christmas carols at the Faculty Christmas Party.

In April, 11 of the 28 orchestra members collaborated with the band to provide the music for the musical West Side Story.

The funds that the orchestra earned from spice sales, candy sales, and garage sales enabled them to travel to Corpus Christi to compete in the Buccaneer Music Festival on April 28.

On February 28, the musicians played for the Texas Music Educators' Association Convention in Fort Worth as the demonstration group.

President Courtney Roark, Vice-President Gillian Wilde, Secretary Allison Wilson and Treasurer Hilary Sere arranged the fund raising projects and concerts.

Also assisting them were Librarian Lisé Stallcup, Historian Lisa McHam, Equipment Manager Peter Schreiber and Social Chairman Kathy Baldwin.

Pupils receive opportunity to act in plays

Encouraging cultural growth in theatre was a primary goal of the International Thespian Club this year. Under the leadership of sponsors Mrs. Linda Raya and Mrs. Debbie Heflich, the club met bi-monthly for guest speakers, improvisations, and special programs presented by various acting groups.

A Christmas banquet was held in December at the home of Drew Spies. Seven members of the club were initiated into the International Thespian Society, an honor received by those with theatrical experience. The seven winners were Chris Alexander, Gail Defferari, Connie Dolph, Megan Elliott, Suzanne Farrar, Lex Martin, and Tina Smith. After Christmas, the club was entertained with talent shows.

May 8, 9, and 10 were the dates of the Spring Thespian Show. Each member of the club had a chance to display his talents on stage either acting, dancing or singing. A barbeque at the home of Paige McDaniell in May served as a combination spring banquet and cast party after the show. At this banquet, officers Susan Cleaver, Becky Farmer, Melissa Mahaffey, Cathy Cummings and Drew Spies turned their offices over to the next year's successors.

Quill and Scroll admits talented senior writers

In order to be a member of Quill and Scroll, students had to fulfill certain requirements. Among these were to have served on a publications staff for at least two trimesters and to have a publications sponsor submit a recommendation for these commendable students. Members also had to be in the upper third of their class.

Officers for Quill and Scroll were elected this fall. Sophie Fullingim was voted president with Martha Stocks as vice-president. Carol MacGregor was elected secretary along with Mike and David Bagg who served as co-treasurers. Mrs. Reyburn Myers was sponsor of the club.

Flower sales help support AFS students

AFS Carnation Sales increased again this year. Although each flower went up from 50¢ to 55¢, the club managed to sell 1,000 more than last year, which brought the total sales to 12,000 carnations. The club grossed $6,000 for a profit of $2,000 which benefitted the exchange program by providing necessary funds to send and receive AFS students.

In November, International Day brought exchange students from all over North Texas to Highland Park. Twelve AFS students attended classes and spoke about their homelands. The club then enjoyed a party given in honor of the visiting students where club members learned a New Zealand ancient war dance demonstrated by a native of New Zealand, Shaun Waugh.

Highland Park's foreign students were Liana Soyloynia from Rhodes, Greece and Pekka Saavalainen from Vantaa, Finland. Liana stayed the year with Dr. and Mrs. John Eisenlohr while Pekka lived with Mr. and Mrs. John Beck.

Other fund-raising activities included the annual talent show given March 16 and the sale of AFS friendship bonds during the parent's open house. The bond sales support the AFS students by paying for their food, yearbook, cap and gown, and school activities.

President Karen Johnson headed the club with Vice-President Sarah Pierce, Secretary Diane Bergerac, and Treasurer Stewart Thomas working diligently. Mrs. Pam Bush and Miss Cathy Orr sponsored the club.

Needed funds give dystrophy patients help

"Helping people is what it is all about," commented Leslie Dehay about Youth Against Dystrophy. YAD's members gave their time and proceeds from various projects throughout the year to help muscular dystrophy patients.

For the second consecutive year, the Highland Park members presented a check to the Jerry Lewis Telethon in September. The following month, YAD's, along with several other groups, put together a spook house for Halloween located on Garland Road. The club succeeded in raising $6,500. In recognition for a job well done, they received a plaque from the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

In February, singers Dawn Lallier, Kathy Baldwin, and Missy Thomas entertained students during a Friday assembly. Eddie Coker also performed, introducing a song of his own composition. YAD's handled the job of ticket sales and admission. Profits earned from the assembly went to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Members looked forward to hosting the annual dance marathon on March 31 at Highland Park. Sponsored by friends, some participants danced for the total sixteen hours.

Miss Jeanine Hartnett sponsored the 14-member club, assisted by Alec Watson, president; Melinda Cain, vice-president; Gillian Wilde, secretary; and Mary McCarthy, treasurer.

Members learn salesmanship at local shops

Distributive Education Clubs of America kept business-oriented students busy learning about distribution and sales presentation. Members worked at local clothing stores, sports shops, and novelty shops.

DE students participated in a competition between local schools in the areas of salesmanship, display, and advertising layout.

Members raised money for their Employer-Employee Banquet by serving food at the "DECA Deli" during the speech tournament held at H.P. DECA members also earned money by co-sponsoring the Muscular Dystrophy Dance-a-Thon with YADS. Bobby Bridwell managed the sale of spirit buttons for the football and basketball teams.

DECA officers were President Dan Sizer, Vice-President Lisa McGrew, Secretary Patti Lewis, Treasurer Paula Deaver, Reporter-photographers Philip Brown and Charles Parnell, and Parliamentarian Sydney Gruber.

Astronomers study planets, observe stars

Meetings held in the planetarium proved to be enlightening for the Astronomy Club. The members kept up with current developments dealing with astronomy. Reports were made during meetings to inform students about the space shuttle, recent U.F.O. sightings, and new pictures taken of Jupiter. Members also attended observation meetings in the planetarium, where they studied the night sky. During one February meeting the astronomers were entertained by Mr. Donald O'Quinn and his presentation on Orion.

Chris Losey was elected as the President of the Astronomy Club. His fellow officers were Marcia Jeffery as Vice-President and Mike Sainz as Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Claire King served the club as Sponsor.

Painting gives added beauty to trash cans

Meetings of this year's Biology club sponsored by Mrs. Foreman and Mrs. Leitner, consisted of making plans and projects for the spring.

The twenty-six member club, headed by President Holly Hawkins and Vice-President Alton Jones, was responsible for decorating the courtyard located in the Biology wing. Each week, club members posted scores of the football games as well as setting up the courtyard Christmas tree.

Club plans included a field trip to the Pompeii exhibit and an excursion over Easter to the coast to study the tide waters. The club also made plans for designing and decorating trash cans to be placed around the school.

Weapon safety main subject of club lecture

Field and Stream's main activity was selling Highland Park booster posters in order to raise money for various planned trips. One of the planned trips was a fishing trip to Lake Murrall in late January. Field and Stream Club members did succeed in going on a deep sea fishing trip in the spring.

During one of the bi-monthly meetings, former Field and Stream sponsor Mr. W. D. Greer lectured on hunting and gun safety.

Math contests give students skill practice

Mu Alpha Theta Club concentrated heavily on preparing for math contests.

In November, ten students won first place in team competition of the Fourth Annual Richardson Math Tournament. Later in the fall, several Scots took individual top honors in the math tournament at Alamo Heights in San Antonio. Twenty math club members entered the Dallas Baptist College contest in February. Students participated in these tournaments to prepare for the annual High School Mathematics Examination held March 6, which determined the members of the United States Math Olympic Team.

Events the math club members participated in at these contests were: Logs and Exponents; Sequences and Series; and Limits and Derivatives. Each student had thirty minutes to work problems of specific subjects. After all contestants handed in their copy, judges combined the points of each individual for the overall score of each high school.

Jay Marshall served the club as president. Other officers were: Harvey Mitchell, vice-president; Jennifer Ladd, secretary; and Frank Webster, treasurer. Mrs. Julia Sutcliffe and Mr. Bruce Orr served as co-sponsors.

Musical club finds guitars main interest

Dr. Lawrence Puckett continued in his fifth year as sponsor of the Guitar Club. At each meeting club members brought their own guitars and took turns playing. Members played jazz, folk, classical, rock, and blue grass.

During meetings, the group worked on their techniques and experimented with new styles. The guitarists also taught each other new songs.

The highlight for the club was a mini-symposium held in the fall. Michael Belmont, who holds a B.F.A. in guitar, lectured at the symposium on techniques and guitar care.

Another interesting event was the improvisation clinic. A graduate from Highland Park, Jeff Prather, entertained as the guest guitarist.

For the club's finale, members entertained the school during a Friday assembly in the spring.

Club members recite poetry during festival

French Club aimed to increase interest in the French language and culture.

Club sponsor Miss Eileen Steensen encouraged members to take part in a French festival held in Denton. Several participants recited poetry, others acted out scenes from plays. Don Rowe recited a dramatic monologue in the festival. All students performed in French.

At the festival, members sampled various French dishes and also learned more about the history of the French language.

After 15 years in existence, the French club dropped in membership to only 12 students. The club's two officers were President Don Rowe and Program Director Melanie Keeling.

Program planning: Melanie Keeling discusses the agenda with sponsor Miss Eileen Steenson for the upcoming meeting.

Spanish Club holds cook-off, tastes recipes

Spanish Club "A" planned a wide variety of activities. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Elysia Holt and Mrs. Lorna Griffin, the fifty-member club enjoyed many programs while increasing their Spanish knowledge.

The Spanish Club attempted guacamole and paella cook-offs which were very successful. The club also enjoyed Spanish cuisine at local restaurants.

At Christmas, each member of the club sponsored a child from Ben Milam Elementary School. The entire club took the children roller-skating and afterwards presented each child with a gift.

Manuel de la Garza spoke at one of the meetings about Mexico and his home life in Monterrey. Members took a field trip to see the Spanish Art Exhibit in Meadows Museum at S.M.U. The tour was conducted completely in Spanish to give the participants a better understanding of the art and a chance to practice and use their Spanish knowledge.

The club met bi-monthly with President David Ede presiding over the meetings. Other club officers included David White, vice-president; Ellen Eisenlohr, secretary; Tucean Webb, treasurer; and Alison Stone, Blake Malouf, and Alicia Rubi acting as program chairmen.

Christmas fun brings smiles for children

Before the icy weather set in, Spanish Club "B" visited the Dallas Society for Crippled Children to give the children Christmas gifts and a party.

Programs included tasting Spanish recipes, making tortillas and listening to the flamenco guitar played by Dr. Lawrence Puckett.

The club met on the first and third Wednesdays and was sponsored by Mrs. Phyllis Giles and Miss Karen Thomas. Officers were President John Leavell and Secretary-Treasurer-Program Chairman Ellen Felvy.

Um, um, good! Nancy Overton and Laurie Collins sample delicious Spanish recipes.

Take your pick: Ellen Felvy and Jennifer Hunt serve Spanish treats to eager club members.

Novemberfest initiates club's many activities

Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Twenty German club members answered "Ya" to the question "Do you speak German?" Members attended the annual Novemberfest at the University of Texas in Arlington to prove their proficiency in German and German customs.

Randy Campbell prepared a rabbit dish, Hassenfeffer, for the cooking contests at the Novemberfest. The three days of marinating and three hours of cooking proved to be worthwhile for Randy, who won second place in the meat dish section.

Brent Peters also participated in the Novemberfest and was awarded first place in classical piano for playing "Lieberstraum". Lisa Richards took third place for her Level 3 poetry reading. Included in these Novemberfest award-winners was International Exchange Student Ingunn Odden, who won second place in Level 3 spelling.

Besides the Novemberfest, club members participated in other activities, such as trips to local German restaurants, an annual Christmas party and a spring picnic and soccer game with the Latin Club.

Members attended a demonstration on folk dancing by Mitzie Porter and listened to speeches from government teacher Mr. John Hanscom on his travels in Germany.

President Lisa Gilhart, Vice-President Lori Lamm, and Secretary-Treasurer Kevin Christen planned the agendas for the meetings.

The meetings, on second and fourth Wednesdays, were supervised by sponsor Mrs. Sylvia McElroy.

"Pompeii lives" major theme for meetings

"Pompeii Lives" was the theme of the meetings and activities planned by the Latin Club.

To earn the money for a picture in the annual, the members held a bake sale on November 6, raising $21.85.

Dues collected from the members went to the State Junior Classical League and National Junior Classical League in order to be a member of the affiliation of Latin clubs.

The regional Latin convention and the state Latin convention proved to be memorable experiences. Participants studied and discussed the history and use of the Latin language. The regional convention was held at Lake Highlands High School on February 17. The state convention on March 10 was held at Mesquite High School.

In the spring the club held a Roman banquet in which they incorporated a Pompeiian theme. The decorations and the food reflected ancient Rome.

Seniors dominated the club's official positions. Co-presidents were Helen Harrison and Cathy Emanuelson. Co-secretaries were Jeanne Barker and Alec Watson. Haley Hardcastle was treasurer, and Doug Wright and Bruce Kerl acted as the program chairmen.

Camera buffs excitedly use new darkroom

After three years of raising money, the Photography Club was finally able to set up a permanent darkroom for the club members' use.

The purpose of the club was to provide a focal point for students having photography as a common interest. The members learned about photography from professional speakers and by taking pictures themselves.

This year members learned from fashion photographer Thom Jackson that the world of modeling from the photographer's point of view is a field of profit and excitement. They also learned about other photography professions from freelance and news photographers.

The club took a field trip in the spring to the Dallas Zoo to practice special techniques. Each member displayed their photographic skills by entering their pictures in a photo contest.

The officers of the club were President John Warren, Vice-President Joe Binford, Secretary Bonnie O'Rourke and sponsor Mr. John Covin.

Strategy builds better skills for competition

Tournaments kept chess and backgammon members pondering their next moves. Members learned the basics as well as some fine strategic points of the game.

Members concentrated on polishing skills for future competition. They drew diagrams of special plays to show beginners the smartest moves. Bi-monthly meetings allowed players to prepare and improve their skills for local tournaments with other schools.

During the meetings members challenged each other in practice games. They competed in single and round-robin tournaments, fighting for the top position. The 32 members were chosen for the club through applications and due payments.

Along with sponsor Mary Dillard, officers Helen Harrison, president, Frank Webster, vice-president, Burns Cooper, secretary, and Hilary Srere, treasurer, organized competitions.

Honor Society adds eighteen on October 3

For over fifty years the National Honor Society has been in service at Highland Park. Eighteen new members were initiated in the candle-lighting ceremony held on October 3. Spence Kendrick, Tripp Stuart, Yvette Myers, and Jay Marshall served as the 1978-79 officers.

Students were eligible the last trimester of their junior year. The first requirement for membership was a 7.0 average for three consecutive trimesters. The names of these students were then put on a list to be rated by the faculty. On a scale of one to eight, teachers evaluated the students in the areas of scholarship, leadership, and service. If a student was rated a seven in each category, he was invited into the society. On January 16, the Society held its annual dinner. Treasurer Yvette Myers was in charge of the pizza dinner given in honor of the members.

At the Honors Assembly in the spring, the National Honor Society, sponsored by Mrs. Cloriene Barrett, presented the Blanket Award to one boy and one girl for outstanding academic achievement and leadership.

New sponsor, old traditions create success

Organized in 1929, the Saber Club provided an opportunity for club members to develop leadership within the National Defense Cadet Corps. During the latter part of the year, members traveled to army bases and military outposts in the north Texas area to observe professional military organizations.

Working in cooperation with the Fire Department, the Saber Club arranged the periodical fire drills throughout the year. Members of the club stationed themselves at various spots throughout the school to receive the drill cards and coordinate the school's exit. They also timed each drill and reported to the school on its efficiency.

President Fred Bruner, Vice President Wade Wiles, and Secretary/Treasurer Scott Sturgeon, under the guidance of the club's new sponsor, Colonel Martin, organized the club functions and ran the meetings.

The Saber Club was responsible for the organization of the Regimental Ball. Members of the National Defense Cadet Corps danced to the music of Lynx at the ball which was held in the girls' gym on March 2.

Cadets march in Clements' inauguration

On January 14, the National Defense Cadet Corps marched in Governor William Clements' Inaugural Parade held in Austin.

NDCC captured an overall first place in the North Zone competition on November 17. This contest was the last official event held in Highlander Stadium.

The NDCC swept to other first place victories in the Dallas County Invitational Drill and Rifle Meet held at MacArthur High School and the Interzone Rifle Match.

The annual Regimental Ball was held in March where the NDCC queen was announced.

The drill and rifle team competed in San Angelo and then at Texas A&M in the state championship.

The corps was also invited to the first annual Tangerine Bowl Drill Competition in Orlando, Florida.

Forward march: NDCC drill team keeps in step after a performance at Highlander Stadium.

Overcoming first-day fears of the seemingly immense high school, freshmen adjusted to high school life with little trouble. The freshman class voted Mandy Watkins and Craig Bailey "friendliest" at the Howdy Dance, held on September 15. Super Scot Spy Jeff Walter attempted to hide under the unassuming mask of an innocent freshman. Linda Lightbourn discovered him and won two dinner passes to a local delicatessen.

Jim Yoder and Duff Smith served on the Student Council Executive Committee representing the freshman viewpoint. Also assigned to be co-chairmen of the publicity committee, they worked to support Student Council activities with posters and announcements.

Frosh jocks experienced their first taste of high school sports participating in football, basketball, baseball, track, and gymnastics. Boosting the Scot spirit were the eight freshman cheerleaders Susan Reed, Jenny Wetzel, Gilly Harris, Kerry Sowden, Caren

Cain, Electra Thomas, Michele Aldridge, and Kristy Spikes. They gained knowledge and skill from a one-week session at SMU summer cheerleading camp.

Freshmen enjoyed their summer in varied ways. Shane Reed participated in "sectionals" Texas State Tennis Championship Tournament, where he earned a ranking among the top twenty players of the state. Scott Pollock and doubles partner Duff Smith advanced to quarter-finals at the East Texas Championship Tennis Tournament. Tracy Wright travelled to Europe while Katherine Schooler basked on the shores of Hawaii. Lee Keele, Heather Parnell, and Kelly Franklin worked with the University Park Methodist Church "Godspell" touring troupe. Mowing lawns for extra money, playing baseball, attending Ranger games, and just plain goofing off provided entertainment and relaxation for those who chose to enjoy summer in Dallas.

Monkeying around: Andy Anderson feeds the animals at a local pet shop.

SOPHOMORES

A long hot summer led to varied sophomore activities. Scot sophomores touring with University Park Methodist Church for their production of "Godspell" were Elizabeth French, Diane Fullingim, Karon McQuien, and Carol Myers. According to Diane, "The experience was so rewarding and I enjoyed the feeling of the audience's response." Other Scots enjoyed the beaches; Dana Bell, Ellen Luce, and Noble Nash soaked up the sun in Hawaii, Laurence Cole and Carolyn Floyd went to Padre Island, and Eleisha Ballard traveled to Acapulco.

Cavagnaro, Steve McCoy, Greg Norton, Glenn Watson, and trainer Charlie Cregor worked their way up to the varsity football team.

B-team cheerleaders Betty Buntin, Diane Hoover, Missy McGee, Shirley Miller, Lane Newsom, and Ronda Ross raised Scot Spirit for the various athletic teams from cheers learned at SMU summer cheerleading camp.

During Howdy Week, Laurie Collins discovered the sophomore Super Scot Spy Shirley Miller. Laurie and Walt Lightbourn served as class representatives on the Student Council and were chosen as Friendliest Sophomores.

JUNIORS

Selected leaders
make serious plans
for upcoming year

Anticipating an active year, the Junior class returned to school after a long summer. Scots traveled from coast to coast during vacation with Anne Snider going to Isleford, Maine while Lisa Corey and Diane Bergerac "were swinging" in Las Vegas. Kathy Kendrick spent a month in Europe, while others made the most of leisure days at home.

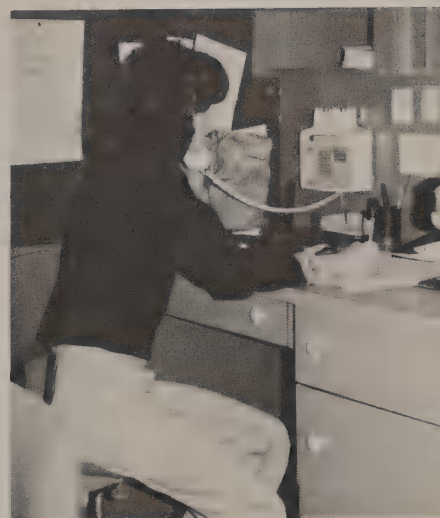

The Howdy Dance on September 15 marked the first event of the busy 1978 calendar. In keeping with the theme, "I Want To Get To Know You," Alison Stone and David Davis were named the "friendliest" juniors. Amy VanAmburgh was the first to discover the true identity of Junior Scot Spy Stephen Barnes.

Members of the Junior class participated in Student Council and Publications. Stewart Thomas and David Davis were Student Council Junior Representatives. Martha Taylor and Lisa Corey served as associate-editors of the Highlander. Contributing to the editorial and business staffs of the Bagpipe were juniors Wynn Harris, Andrea Kahn, Kathy Kendrick, Lynne Martin, Alicia Rubi, and Susan Swarner, while Philip Chalk provided illustrations.

The Junior Class played a big part in the success of the athletic teams. Thirty-four junior Spirit Committee members helped cheer on Captain Lance McIlhenny and the other twenty varsity football players. Juniors bolstered school spirit with after-game parties, decorating committees, and shoe polish brigades that left their marks on area cars.

In October, class officers were chosen. President Ty Snelling, Vice President Stewart Thomas, Secretary Ellen Eisenlohr, and Treasurer Alison Stone immediately began to make plans for the Junior-Senior Prom to be held in the spring.

"No time to rest": exclaims Marla Waak as she busily swaps tickets at Theatre Three.

SENIORS

Game hunters: Senior Class Officers John Miller, Kathy Baldwin, Barbara Carpenter and Rob Addington plan for an all night party full of fun and games

Anticipation of graduation and the new experience of college life had seniors developing early symptoms of "Spring Fever," which rapidly spread into the deadly disease of "Senioritis."

"Friendliest Seniors" Mary Bullington and Randy Johnson started the year off with smiles at the Howdy Dance held after the first home football game September 14.

Senior class officers elected to plan the 1989 class reunion were John Miller, president; Kathy Baldwin, vice-president; Barbara Carpenter, secretary; and Rob Addington, treasurer.

National Merit Council recognized thirteen seniors as semi-finalists and awarded sixteen seniors with letters of commendation for their outstanding scores on the PSAT-NMSQT. Eighteen new members were inducted into the National Honor Society in a candle-lighting ceremony.

Senior Susan Fuller won the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Award for her writing ability. Receiving a proficiency citation from the Interscholastic League Press Conference was senior Spence Kendrick, for a Bagpipe story on the raising of Highlander Stadium.

The Teen-Age Citizenship Tribute was awarded to seniors David Simpson and Susan Swanson. Sam Chantilis won third place in district in the Voice of Democracy contest for his oratory abilities. David Bagg was recognized as the most outstanding business student with the Business Award.

Wishy washy: Robin Barry and Leslie Williams take advantage of a sunny day to wash a car.

Climb every mountain: Day Shelmire reflects on the ground he covered on an expedition in Peru

Summer vacations gave seniors the opportunity to travel on the continent and abroad.

Mary Bullington, Brenda Francis, Julie Smith, and Barbe Beattie enjoyed the U.S. mainland vacationing in California. Jeanne Barker, Pris Shytles, Lauris Brown, and Carolyn Wagner found relaxation in the mountain ranges of Colorado. Haley Hardcastle and Jamie Holloway worked at a resort in Maine. As members of Saint Michael's and All Angels Church Choir, Lee Ann Stewart and Ginger Bell sang at the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C. Judy Claman sailed up the coast to Martha's Vineyard on a family yacht.

Europe provided the perfect vacationing spot for Spence Kendrick, Martha Brabham, and Julia Hosford. The cultures of Hungary, Poland, Italy and Russia fascinated Leslie DeHay on a choir trip.

Brett Poston's answer to hot summer days was a cool trip to Alaska. Pam Hochberg, Yvette Myers, Winifred Wilson, and Kathryn Dockery endured the heat by spending June in Mexico. Leslie Andrus, Beth Barnett, Beth Burford and Susan Fuller tanned in Hawaii and Bermuda.

Ambitious seniors found mad money, sound savings, and college cash to be the benefit of part-time jobs.

Jobs varied from pumping gas to arranging flowers in a flower shop. David Bagg and Charlie Anderson spent afternoons and Saturdays working in a clothing store. Camie Rodgers, Leslie Andrus, and Kathy Reddick sold women's apparel.

Guitar strings kept Dawn Lallier tied up teaching guitar lessons while tennis strings were Leslie DeHay's racquet, as she worked for the Maureen Connally Brinker Tennis Foundation. Restaurants tastefully employed seniors Tony Vandeverdonk, Fon Huang, Kevin Kohler and Martha Frase.

Dale Walter used his hobby of photography to make portraits and earn some extra cash. Gary Davison played the organ at Highland Park Methodist Church.

Coat of Arms: David Bagg helps Charlie Anderson try on a sports coat.

Seniors talked with counselors, traveled through the country, met with college representatives, and sorted through pamphlets in search of colleges that wanted them and that they wanted to attend.

Once located, a college demanded much from the applicant. Applications required educational background, family background and personal background. Seniors who applied to private universities found out how hard it is to write essays about themselves. Many students rushed to get teacher recommendations to complete the information necessary for early February deadlines.

Students began taking SAT's, ACT's, and achievement tests in October.

Testing filled many Saturday mornings for students who hoped for high scores. Four weeks after testing, seniors anxiously searched their mail boxes awaiting the word from the Educational Testing Service.

College visitation gave seniors a closer look at prospective schools.

HP allowed two excused absences for college visitation when a note was brought a week in advance. Visitation rights to in-state colleges were removed midway through the year because many students took advantage of the privilege. After visiting and applying came the hardest job — waiting. Seniors spent weeks of nail-biting and fidgeting, anticipating the day in April that would bring a letter of acceptance.

Automobiles Have Changed. Our Integrity Hasn't.

Carl Sewell sold his first car out of his father's hardware store in Arlington in 1912.

It came from the factory in a wooden crate, ready to assemble. Mr. Sewell not only put the car together, but taught the purchaser how to drive it.

The cars we sell now don't come in crates. And we haven't been asked in many years to teach a prospective customer how to drive. But there has been no change in our attitude. We still emphasize that extra personal concern. It is a Sewell tradition. It should reassure you that our good name means a great deal to us. And we maintain that good name by selling the finest automobiles in the world, and giving them the finest service that dedication and years of experience can produce.

In the real estate business, we see solid evidence every day of the value people place on this school and its people. ♡ It's a value well earned. ♡ We studied here ourselves and we're pleased to know hundreds more who graduated from this school, finished their education and returned to play their part in the life of this community. ♡ It's become almost a cliché to say our students are our best investment in the future, but we know it's true. ♡ We're proud of you.

Happiness is having friends who help!

Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas, printed Volume 56 of The Highlander. The 352 pages are printed in 22 16-page signatures, Smyth-sewn, with headbands. Eighty pound enamel paper was used in the printing of copies.

Helvetica type was used for all body copy and captions with headlines set in Helvetica Medium and the names of organizations set in Helvetica Bold. Special letters used on the cover design and division pages are Formatt Hobo. Other special type appearing throughout the book include Chartpak American Typewriter, Broadway

Engraved, Letraset Octopus Shaded, Motter Ombra, Oxford, Zipatone AKI Lines, Formatt Monument, and Helvetica Italics. Spot colors used in the introduction and on division pages are #12 Marine blue and #52 Process yellow.

Our special thanks go to Bradley Photographers for taking most of the organizations and athletic group shots and all individual class pictures. We would also like to thank Kincaid Photo Service and Custom Color Corporation for excellent service in processing our black-and-white and color film.

We would like to recognize our new sponsor Miss Katherine Carpenter, our Taylor Representative Mr. Acie Mitchell, and Miss Gladys Bradshaw for their help and advice. Sincere appreciation goes to our "fantastic photographer," Dale Walter, for always being in the right place at the right time. Finally, Co-editors Ginger Bell and Carol MacGregor and Co-business managers Kathryn Dockery and Linda Haseltine would like to thank our families and friends for their understanding and moral support in helping us make our deadlines, no matter how close and impossible they seemed.

Mixed emotions end school year

Travolta fever: Students model the latest disco attire at a Friday assembly.
Suey, suey, suey: Susan Cleaver pigs out at the Hi-Lites mother-daughter tea.
Hey, good looking: Lisa Corey asks, "What 'cha got cooking?"

conclusion

Spencer Inn?: Jeff Bailey and Day Shelmire wonder what Sarah Tucker sees in Cool Whip.

Happy days: Beth Burford applauds Hi-Lite King, Manuel de la Garza.

Mirror, mirror on the car: Dale Walter experiments with trick photography.

Fist full: Mary Bullington finds her digits finger looking good.

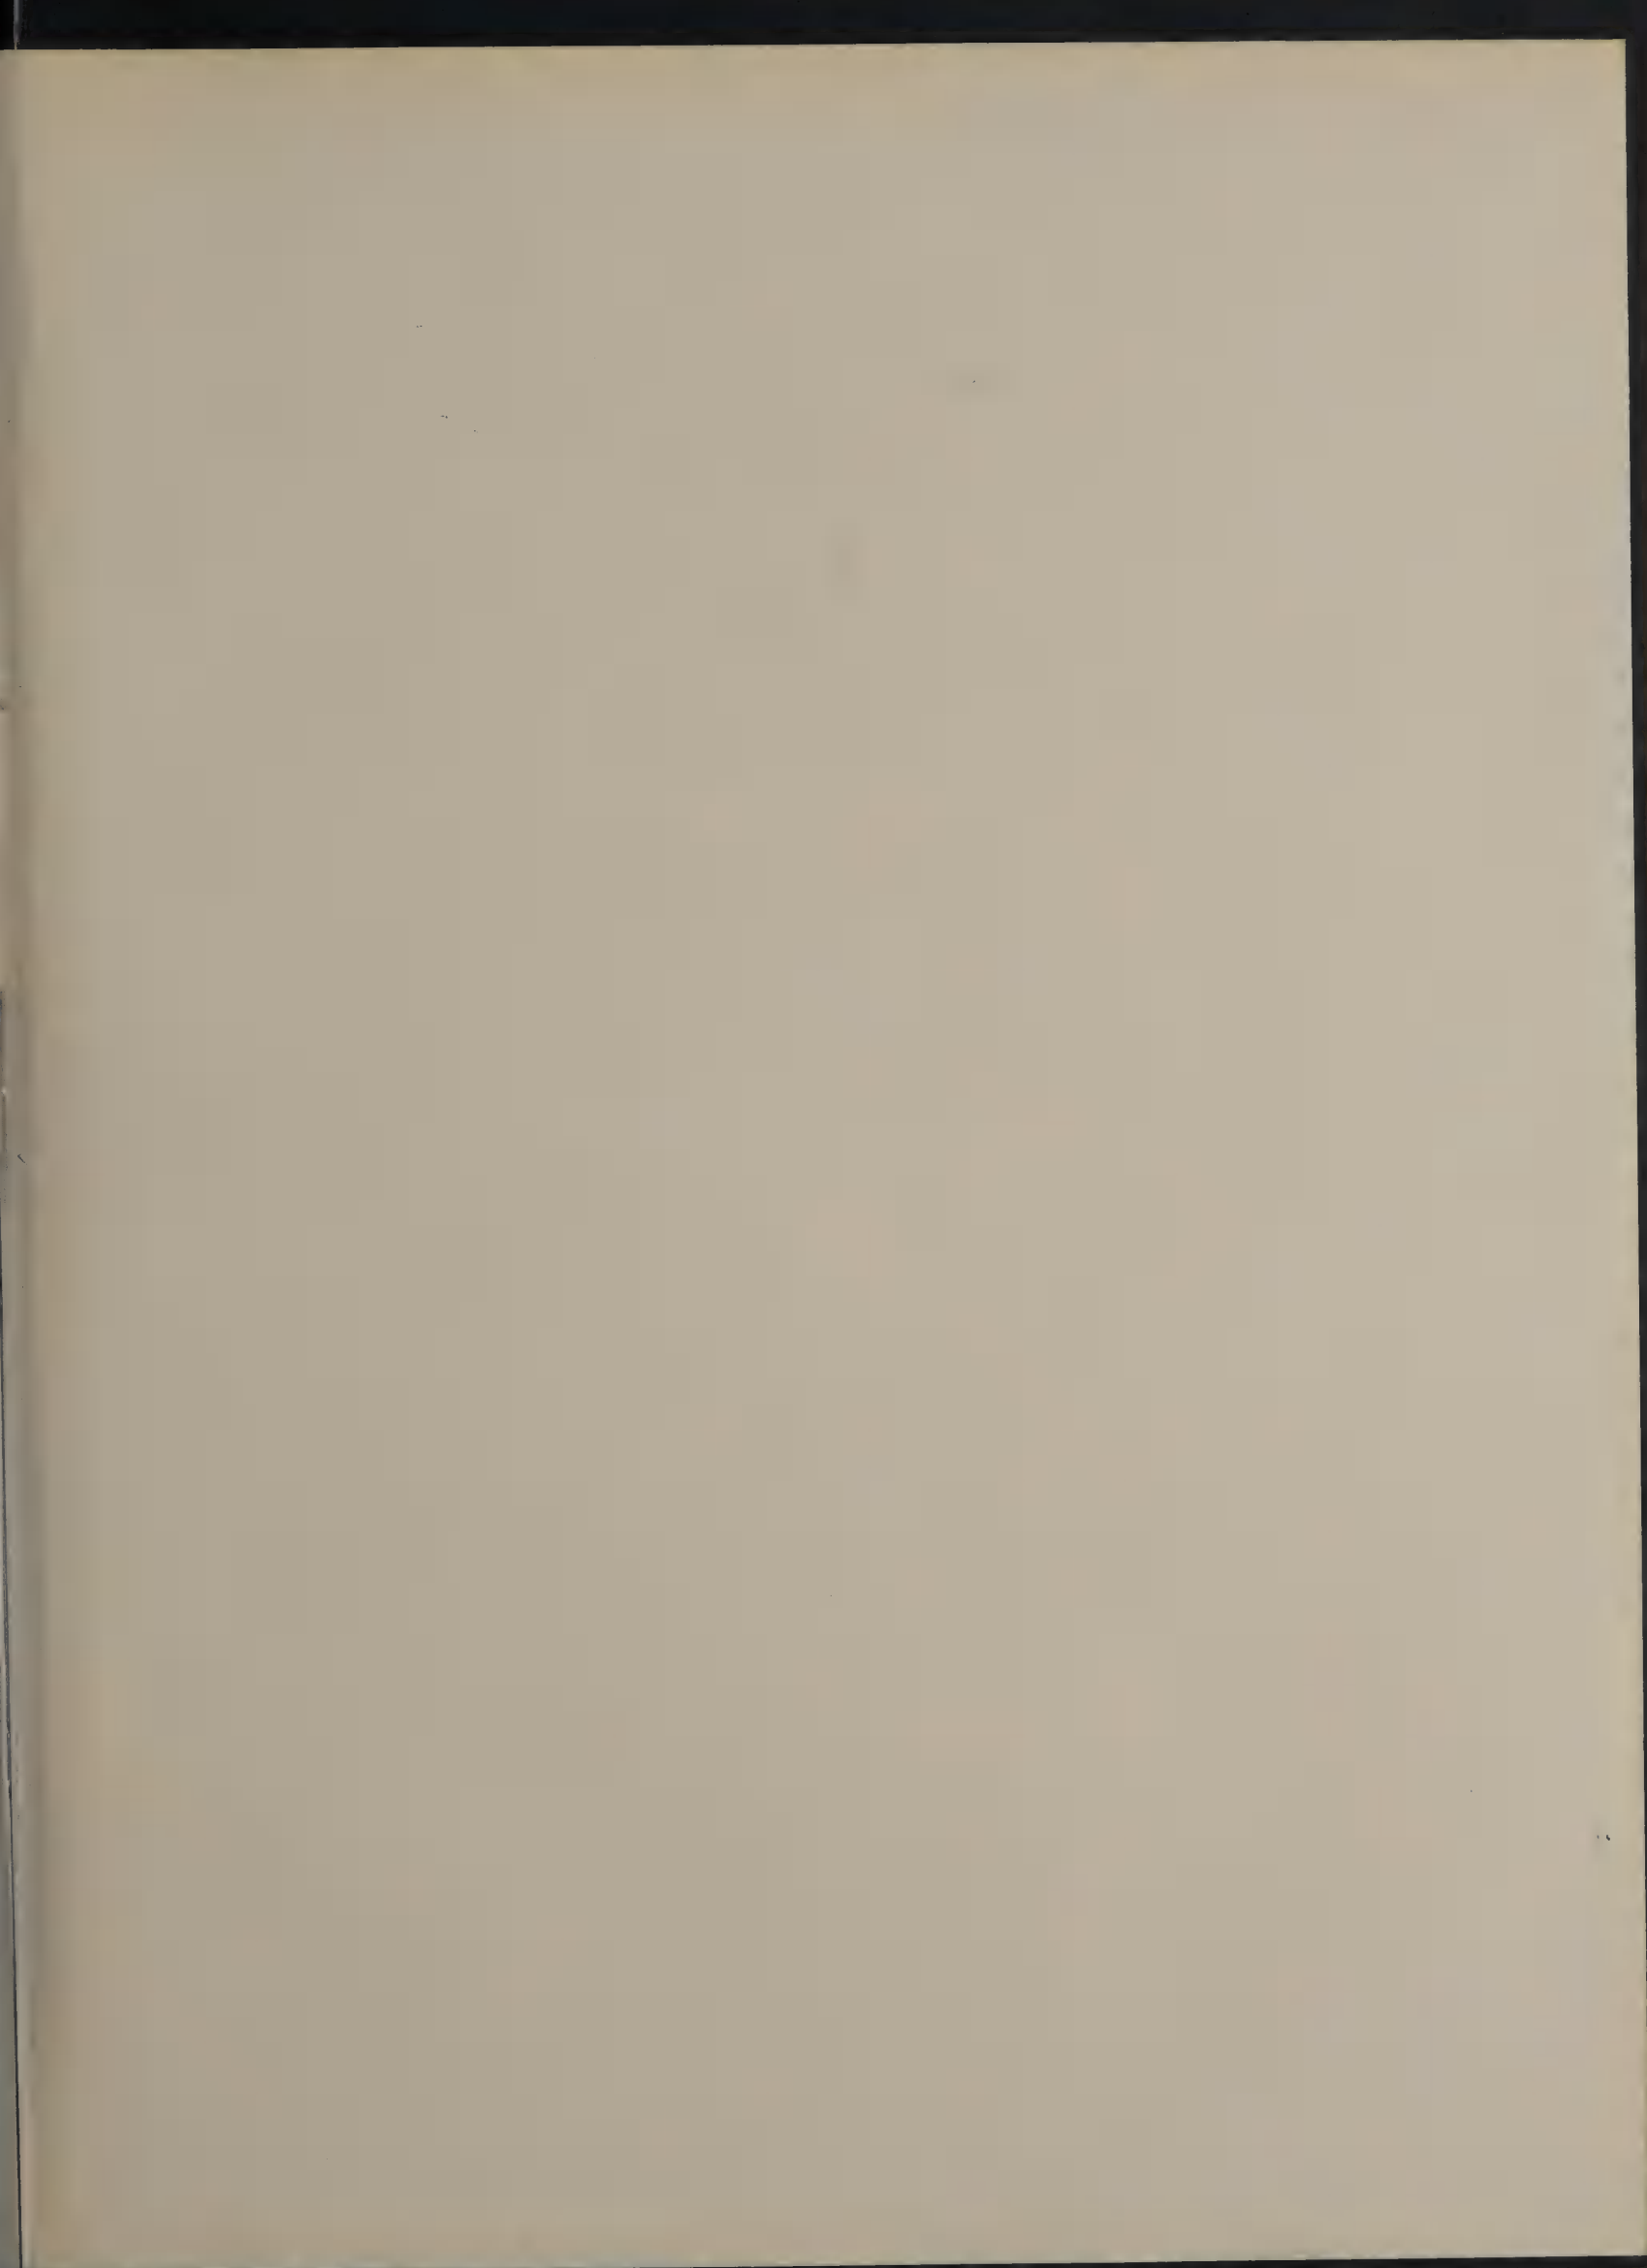

Students felt a surge of excitement on the opening day of school, but the feeling subsided as students adjusted to their routine class schedule and the hassle of homework. As school progressed, construction ended inside, but continued outside with the destruction and rebuilding of a new Highlander Stadium.

The life of Park Cities residents froze when the worst ice storm in 30 years hit the metroplex on December 31. Many families went without electricity for up to a week, relying on friends with heat and light for help. Spring Fever and Senioritis plagued students as soon as the February dance season began. Seniors attended graduation activities and expressed mixed emotions on ending one era of their life to begin a new one.

Highlander* premieres with rave reviews

Gas shortage gives students tight budgets

In March, Americans were stunned by news of a nuclear "accident" that occurred at the Three Mile Island Nuclear Plant near Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. As the possibility of a "melt-down" came closer, residents of the neighboring area were evacuated until the accident could be remedied. The incident sparked new arguments over the safety of nuclear energy in the future.

The national energy crisis hit home in another way. As gasoline prices soared, Americans began to feel the financial pinch and became more gas conscious.

April weather brought on more than showers. Severe weather traveled through Texas and centered in Wichita Falls. The town of 150,000 was hit by a tornado that was said to be the worst in Texas' history. Damage was estimated in the millions and complete restoration will take at least ten years. Construction began on Dallas' new sports arena, bringing the advent of professional basketball and other new athletic events.

The HP school board approved new cafeteria plans through a cooperative effort of six PTA cafeteria committees. The committees agreed to fund up to 50% of the expenses for a food service consultant. The school district is expected to pay some $9,000 annually to fund half of the consultant's salary.

Excited expressions: Spirit Committee heads open their gifts at the ice cream party.

Big dipper: David Ede displays his cheerleading skills with his partner Liz Feld.

Determined runner: Tom Burson moves the ball downfield in the Blue-Gold game.

"I told you so": Dale Walter relates an unbelievable experience at the Publication picnic.

What's up Doc?: Velma (Carolyn Floyd), Riff (Scott Farrar), and Graziella (Allison Williams) laugh at Doc's philosophy.

"America!": The Shark girls Suzanne Farrar, Kathy Baldwin, Cynthia Jones, and Paige McDaniel sing the praises of their new homeland.

Girl talk: Maria (Becky Chalk) and Anita (Suzanne Farrar) compare their romances.

Gang gathering: The Jets take a tip from their leader Riff concerning the upcoming rumble.

New York sets create scenes for '79 musical

New York City set the scene for West Side Story, the 1979 musical.

Auditions before Christmas resulted in 40 actors and actresses being chosen to play the roles in West Side Story. Rehearsals began immediately following Christmas vacation, 4 nights a week from 6:00 to 9:30 p.m. The musical production, presented on April 5, 6, 7, was produced and directed by Don Waugh, choral music teacher. Many hours were spent working with acting director Ben McKinley; choreographer Rodwic Fulcino; and rehearsal accompanist Julian Reed.

Lead roles of Maria and Tony were portrayed by Becky Chalk and Drew Spies. Principal roles were Suzanne Farrar (Anita), Michael Bagg (Bernardo), Scott Farrar (Riff), and Nicky Phillips (Doc).

Cast parties followed every performance with an all night party following Saturday's performance. All cast, crews, ushers and orchestra members attended the last party at the YMCA.

"One hand, one heart": Maria (Becky Chalk) and Tony (Drew Spies) say their "goodnights."

Get on the good foot: Chris Beck and Chris Lallier step in time to raise money for patients during the YAD's dance marathon.

Heads up: Upperclassmen battle it out in a volleyball game sponsored by the Junior class officers benefiting the Jr.-Sr. prom.

Scot speakers: Davey Davis and Blanten Filak reminisce over the events of the past season at the Basketball banquet.

Handout: Blake Malouf and Ellen Eisenlohr sell goodies to Diane Bergerac at the Junior bake sale.

Chorus line: Performers from Stephens College entertain at Hi-Lites.

March brings last trimester, new activities

March came in like a lion with trimester exams, followed by a whirlwind of spring activities.

The junior class worked throughout the month to earn money for this year's Jr.-Sr. prom. In addition to bake sales and a gymnastics assembly, the officers organized a weekend Jr.-Sr. class volleyball tournament at Caruth Park.

The annual Spring Open House, held on March 14th, presented parents, students, and teachers with an excellent opportunity to chat. The 1979 Tartan was distributed to its patrons during the evening.

March 27 students were introduced to "Operation Kick-it" at a Dad's Club sponsored assembly. Inmates from the Texas Department of Corrections came to discuss with students the consequences involved with drugs, crime, and alcohol.

On March 28th and 29th the choir participated in UIL choir competition. Among the many members who received superior ratings were seniors Cathy Cummings, Joe Clark, Jay Marshall, Missy Thomas, Kathy Baldwin, Becky Chalk, Suzanne Farrar, and Beth Burford, and juniors David Davis, Sally Ingle, Lucy Morrison, Mark Mills, Tina Smith. The girl's choir, Reve-laïres, won sweepstakes.

Several HP students entered projects in the Dallas Regional Science Fair held March 28th. Susan Fuller placed second in Chemistry followed by Martha Stocks with a third place finish, and Jay Marshall with honorable mention. Special awards were received by Lisa Hosford, winning the American Cancer Society Award and Bonnie Peters, winning the American Society Award and American Microbiology Award.

At the banquet on March 13th, the basketball team announced its queen, Jane Johanson. Volleyball team members, also honored at the dinner, crowned Kevin Arps as king. Rounding out the March royalty, NDCC named Allison Garrett their queen.

April elections bring students exciting results

After a cold and powerless winter, H.P. students were ready for the April elections to decide next year's officers. The student body flocked to the auditorium April 2 and 3 to listen to speeches by hopeful candidates. Student Council President Arvin Combs announced the new officers April 6. David Davis was elected to lead the 1979-1980 Student Council assisted by Ellen Eisenlohr as Secretary. Taking over the senior representative positions were Tom Burson, Lex Martin, and Evan Wyly. Running unopposed for junior representatives were Chris Acton and Nancy Hill. Jonathan Ladd and Jim Yoder were chosen to represent the sophomores.

Also chosen by the student body were varsity cheerleaders Nelson Bell, David Ede, Todd Farrell, George Poston, Liz Feld, Michelle Jones, Adrienne Macatee, and Alison Stone. Winning B-team cheerleader positions were Gigi Alexander, Anne Beall, Becky Brooks, Stephanie Jones, Jill McGowin, and Claire Squibb.

Lisa Corey and Martha Taylor assumed responsibility of maximum offices for the Highlander along with co-business managers Ann Aston and Ellen Wiggins. Associate co-editors of the Highlander, Tricia Buddendorf and Cathy Fuller, were also chosen.

The student body elected new officers to serve on the Bagpipe consisting of co-editors Philip Chalk and Alicia Rubi, and co-business managers John Howard and Kathy Kendrick.

On Tuesday, April 24, 47 H.P. students participated in the candlelight induction service for the National Honor Society.

Thrill of victory: Michelle Jones and Nelson Bell rejoice when they are announced as Varsity Cheerleaders.

Cute couples: Hi-Lite officers and their escorts model the latest looks for Spring.

Pucker-up: The 1979 Baseball Queen, Pam Hochberg, receives a congratulatory kiss and bouquet from Larry Showalter.

Fine job: Newly installed National Honor Society member John Walter shakes Dr. Sigler's hand at the induction ceremony.

Double your fun: Evan Wyly and Tom Burson talk their way into senior representative positions in next year's Student Council.

Dream come true: Newly elected Student Council President David Davis gives a sigh of relief at the announcement of his victory.

Quad-paks?: Cathy Fuller learns ■ new term at HIGHLANDER workcrew in May.

Village people: Senior girls sing about the YMCA in the Senior Talent show.

All grins: Terry Cunningham tells past events at the tennis, track, and golf banquet.

Terrific tune: Tracy Samples sings the blues at the Lads and Lassies banquet.

Really?: Amy Wise can't believe she won her new Hi-Lites office of program chairman.

Macho man: Coach Mouser executes a sly maneuver in the faculty-student volleyball game.

May moments create tension, mixed feelings

May not only brought flowers, but also showers of events and "unusual" weather. In the first week of May, tornadoes and flash floods occurred throughout the Dallas area. On May 3, the students and teachers went down to the basement when the tornado alarm sounded and later resumed classes above. However, minutes later new weather warnings began, and the group returned downstairs for thirty minutes until final approval allowed them to resume normal classes.

Happier moments occurred at the Hi-Lites Luau when twelve new officers were announced. The members enjoyed the entertainment, as well as dressing up in specific class attire.

The Student Council gained three new officers in May. Named were vice-president Stewart Thomas, treasurer Diane Bergerac, and parliamentarian Marcie Kirby.

The Spirit Committee for the coming year was announced early in May. The upperclassmen members also enjoyed their annual ice cream party at Matt Aldredge's, and all anticipated that next year would be "spirited."

Interested teachers and students took time out of their busy days in May to donate a pint of blood to the Blood Drive. Donors were rewarded with cookies and juice to boost their energy.

The Lads and Lassies choir traveled down to the Texas coast to participate in competitions and sunbathe on the beaches. Many members were awarded for their singing. The following week the choir enjoyed a banquet, followed by a dance and midnight breakfast.

Dinners and picnics were the major events for other organizations. The annual publications picnic was held at Dale Walter's house.

HP swimmer goes to state; team excels

Led by captain Brad Lane, swimmers finished in the top six qualifying for the Regional meet held at SMU.

At Regionals, qualifying for the State meet in Austin, Kim Carson finished second in the 100 and 200 yard freestyle with times of :55.0 and 1:57.59. Allyson Parr finished sixth in the 500 free and seventh in the 100 butterfly. Also swimming the 100 fly was Anne Rose, finishing tenth. Caroline Thyssen swam the 50 and 100 free placing sixth and seventh.

The girls' relays also finished near the top. The 200 yard medley relay, composed of Elizabeth Benton, Kris Beck, Nancy Wylie, and Susan Clarke, clocking a 2:07.86, placed seventh, while the 400 yard free relay placed fourth. Carson, Thyssen, Rose, and Parr combined for a time of 3:55.17. Overall, the girls swam to a sixth place finish.

The boys also swam well, finishing eighth. Placing fourth and fifth, Bruce Hayes swam the 500 and 200 free while captain Brad Lane swam the 100 breaststroke. Senior Adair McKnight finished ninth in the 100 fly with a 57.74. Divers Curt Anderson and David Shelmire dived to fourth and eighth respectively.

The boys' relays placed sixth and seventh. The 400 yard free relay composed of Hayes, Lane, Kevin Meek, and McKnight clocked a 3:34.40. The 200 yard medley relay with David Hutcheson, Lane, McKnight, and Reed Shawver finished with a 1:49.98.

At the State meet, freshman Kim Carson placed fifth in the 200 yard freestyle with a :55.43.

Splish, splash: B-teamer David Hutcheson strokes to the finish in the 100 yard freestyle.

What style! Allyson Parr demonstrates the freestyle stroke, gliding through the water.

Bubbling right along: Bruce Hayes comes up for another breath during a meet.

SWIMMING

Practice makes perfect: Carol Meek demonstrates her ability on the green.

Smooth Swing: Lamar Roberts perfects his follow through for a flawless drive.

Concentration: Jane Johansen displays the form that makes her a winner.

Golf - Tennis teams continue winning ways

H.P. golf and tennis teams demonstrated their winning ways by advancing to regional and state action.

The Scot tennis team had a very successful year, winning many tournaments and compiling one of the best records in the area. The team was represented by the players at regionals, Jane Johansen and boys' captain Talbot Davis. Jane finished second while Talbot won his division. The duo then traveled to Austin where they competed in the state tournament.

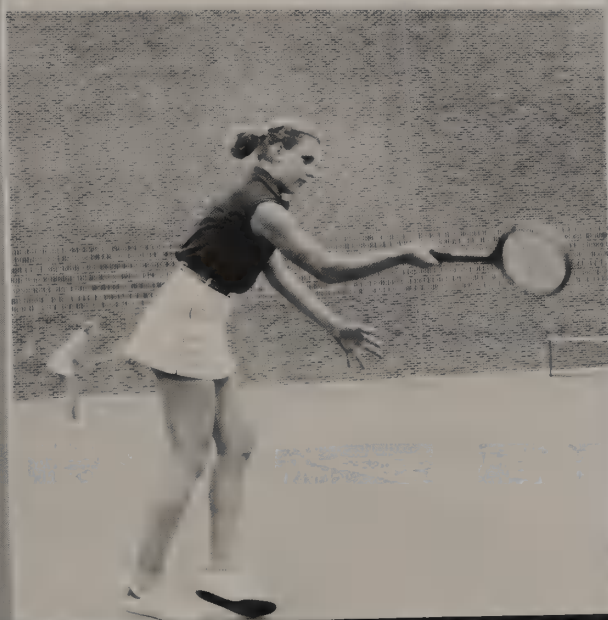

The boys' golf team capped another good year with a second place finish at district and a resulting trip to regionals. Paced by Rob Addington, Ted Nash, and Matt Schooler the team traveled with high hopes to regional play. At the tournament the boys placed fourth in a field of the top sixteen area teams.

The girls' golf team, in only its third year of competition, captured the district 13-AAAA crown. Led by co-captains Carol Meek and Kaki Roach, the team gained much valuable experience at regional play. The entire team showed tremendous improvement from the previous year.

Golf coach Gerald Everett commented that "both teams had successful years, and I'm looking for equally successful teams next year."

Scot varsity pitches, hits for 7-7 tally

The Scot Varsity Baseballers proved Dallas newspapers' consensus wrong. They triumphed over predicted district leaders in their first year of district 13-AAAA baseball.

The Scots were under the leadership of head coach Cecil Holmes. Seniors John Heal, Eddie Coker, and Mike McGee served as the team tri-captains.

Leading the team in hitting percentage was senior Danny Presley with a sizzling .426 average. Danny was also the Scots representative to the 13-AAAA first-team all district squad.

J-V Baseballers were under the guidance of Coach Orvil Jones. Plagued by troublesome weather, the team finished with a 5 win and 7 loss season tally.

H.P. tracksters advance five to regionals

Leading the way during the 1979 spring season, junior Laurie Dunlap and freshmen Liz Delaney, Katie Hutchison and Callie Petty qualified for regionals in the 400 and 800 meter relays. Plagued by injuries, the team competed well in their tough, new 13-4A district.

With his new responsibilities as girls' track coach, Jim Mouser has high hopes for the upcoming years with his undefeated freshman team.

Under the new guidance of Louis Powers, the running Scots completed a very successful season. Captains Steve Rogers and Allan Shropshire led the way as the Scots finished fifth in district. With a second place finish in the mile run, John Guffey qualified and placed seventh at the regional meet in Denton. This concluded the boys' hard and well-fought season.

Soccer team ties for first, falls in playoff

The boys' soccer team, boasting an exceptional 6-1 record, suffered defeat in the final district playoff game losing to Pearce by the score of 2-0. The Varsity girls, in just their second season, wrapped up fourth place in a tough district with an even record of 7-7.

The Scot sweethearts, under Coach Debbie Holder, defeated teams of more experience and of higher ranking. Coach Holder credited "a great deal of improvement" to the team's "determination and unity." Led by captains Libby Beall and Susan Swanson, Ann Summit, and Shirley Miller made key offensive efforts while Carrie Delius gave the defense its strength. The girls' JV was just as successful as Susan Reed, Mary Sandifer and captains Ellen Wiggins and Suzanne Shirley led the team to a final 3-3-2 record in district play.

The boys' team, under Coach Dave Fricke and led by Senior captains David Simpson and Cory Groves, scored double victories over Plano and Denton. Splitting wins with Lake Highlands, the team dropped the first game 3-0, but they took the second by a score of 1-0. The Scots then went on to defeat Berkner in a 1-0 shootout to determine the championship of their zone. Javi Millet scored the deciding goal as the boys captured the district co-championship. In the playoff against Pearce, the Scots dropped the hard fought contest and ended their season with an overall record of 6-2.

The boys' JV ended their season with a 1-2-4 record. Outstanding players for the squad were David Haggart, Lang Aston and Jay Reed.

Here he comes: Dribbling downfield, Cory Groves tries to elude the Lake Highlands defense.

Students show athletic skills in intramurals

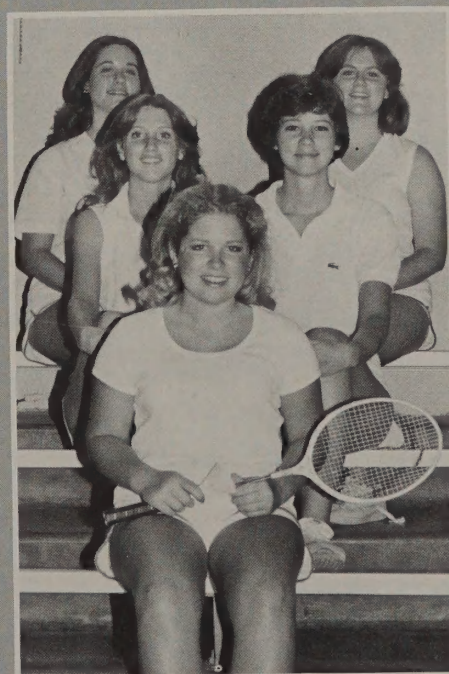

Intramural sports attracted students' participation. Springtime brought girls out to compete in volleyball and badminton.

Winning in the ninth and tenth grade division was Anne McConnell's team. Karen Johnson's team captured the eleventh and twelfth grade division.

Intramurals continued with individuals and doubles competition in badminton. Freshman Elizabeth Campbell won badminton singles for lowerclassmen. Kathy Kessler and Amy Taulbee teamed up to take the ninth and tenth grade badminton doubles. Elizabeth Muir and Kate Hanneman took the doubles title for the eleventh and twelfth grades.

Boys were also active in basketball intramurals, a double elimination tournament. In the ninth and tenth grade division, Bobby Wertheimer's team came in first against the other 5 teams.

Upperclassmen competition consisted of 8 teams. The winning team was led by Lott McIlhenny.

BADMINTON WINNERS: K. Hanneman, E. Muir, K. Kessler, A. Taulbee, E. Campbell.

Mixed emotions: Eager seniors file down the stairway to leave school for their last time as students of Highland Park.

Who, me?: Fellow students applaud Joe van der Gracht when he is announced Valedictorian at the Honors day assembly.
